JET PLANE HITS AREA HOME. Firemen put out the remaining flames in a home in Moon Township near the Greater Pittsburgh Airport which was struck by a Michigan Air National Guard F-84 jet fighter Tuesday afternoon. The fighter sliced the home in two. The pilot, Capt. Victor Kalthoff, 32, of Detroit, Mich., bailed out safely when the plane developed a fuel problem. Mrs. Elizabeth Kaiser, 51, and her mother, Mrs. Marie Lind, 68, were in the home when the plane hit. They escaped serious injury, but were hospitalized.

Judge Acquits 6 Accused In Race Bet Case

Motion Of Defense Citing Insufficient Evidence Upheld

BULLETIN!

WHEELING — U. S. District Judge Charles F. Paul today acquitted six men of charges of conspiracy in the illegal transmission of horse race results across state lines. The action was on motion of defense counsel. Judge Paul said the "government failed to establish a case sufficient to go to a jury."

The jury had the day off today while opposing attorneys conferred with U.S. District Court Judge Charles F. Paul at Wheeling about the case of six men charged in an alleged horsebook operation.

Judge Paul said the conference would deal with several pending motions and with points of law.

The jury was told at the conclusion of the government's testimony Tuesday to report back Thursday morning.

The government rested Tuesday after presenting 10 federal agents who testified generally about activities at the Saddle Oyster Bar at Wheeling and the State Cigar Store at Weirton.

The two establishments were raided last December.

Defendants are Carl Yaquinta, 30, Albert M. Downing, 34, and Howard O. Allen, 41, all of Wheeling; Phillip J. Hankish, 26, of Martins Ferry, and Louis Gresko, 42, and Nick Vukovich, 45, both of Weirton.

The government contends racing information from Waterford Park at Newell was transmitted illegally by telephone conversations routed through East Liverpool to West Virginia bookmaking spots.

T. F. Edwards, commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. at East Liverpool, testified Tuesday.

He said that in a 68-day period, last Oct. 29-Jan. 4, some 398 calls passed through the East Liverpool exchange for Wheeling and Weirton on a phone listed for one William Moss. Another official of the company identified "Moss" as Hankish.

Spring 'Heat Wave' To Continue Thursday

The spring "heat wave," which has set the highest temperatures of the year, will continue through Thursday at least after another high of possibly 90 today.

The Ohio weatherman said today's high will range between 85 and 90, but the rate of climb this morning indicated the top mark may be reached. The Stratton Dam had a 90 reading Tuesday, as did Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

The low this morning was 62 downtown and tonight's may be 65 to 70.

Democrats Back But Face 'Firing'

LISBON — Three Democrat Courthouse employes, dismissed from their jobs 15 months ago by Republican-dominated county commissioners, returned to work today with court backing, but apparently face a new dismissal by the commissioners for "political activity."

Miss Patricia Barborak of West Point, photostat operator; Mrs. Jane Case of Columbiana, telephone operator, and Mrs. Ruth Wining of Columbiana, clerk, were back on the job this morning after a dispute that went to the Ohio Supreme Court.

BUT GOP Commissioners Walter Huston and Galen Greenisen issued a statement Tuesday that the trio will be discharged under state Civil Service regulations which forbid political activity.

The two Republicans reiterated their position that the employes "were not and never have been under the Civil Service laws of Ohio."

But they said the matter has been heard in the 7th District Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Ohio with the decision that the jobs do "in fact, fall within the Civil Service provisions of the law."

THE statement goes on to point out since the jobs are under Civil Service regulations, these regulations also provide that "no officers or employe in the classified service of this state or the several counties shall be an officer in any political organization or take part in politics other than to vote as he or she pleases and to express freely his political opinions."

The 7th District Court had ruled the three women were entitled to their jobs with back pay, and this action was appealed to the higher court by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

The Supreme Court also ruled they achieved Civil Service status when they filed non-competitive examinations — which Brokaw claimed were only job applications—but said they were not entitled to back pay.

MRS. CAMILLA Smith of Wellsville, former microfilm operator, was also dismissed from her job Feb. 1, 1961, but that post has apparently been abolished, and she did not return to work.

Three Republican-appointees had been employed at the Courthouse since the firings, and a fourth employe died during the dispute.

Atty. Guy Mauro, counsel for the three Democrats, has been notified of the commissioners' action.

School Finance Solution May Be Decided May 31

A recommendation on whether to seek additional operating funds for city schools or ask only renewal of an existing 3-mill levy at the Nov. 6 general election was postponed until another public seminar May 31 at a meeting Tuesday night sponsored by the Board of Education in co-operation with the Ohio School Boards Association to discuss school finances.

The decision to defer any recommendation came at the close of a nearly two-hour public meeting at Westgate School at which 23 persons received a mass of statistics covering virtually every facet of present finances.

The statistics covered such items as assessed valuation, valuation and costs per pupil, current operating expenses, comparison with other school districts and a comparison of teachers' salaries by categories.

Some discussion also was held on another problem facing the school board — whether to build an entirely new high school plant or replace Central School and continue to use the main high school and Memorial Auditorium — but again there was no definite recommendation.

The discussion revealed that the two problems are intertwined with a decision on one bearing on what decision will be made on the other.

One suggestion was offered to ask renewal only of the existing levy, apparently to allow the board time to arrive at a decision on the high school problem.

However, another participant suggested the board ask renewal of the existing levy and also seek an additional 2 mills for operating costs, explaining it might be difficult to secure passage of more operating levies if a school bond issue would be approved.

(The current levy first was voted five years ago and at the present assessed valuation produces $143,151. An additional 2 mills would provide $95,434 more for operating costs).

A brief discussion also was held on the affect of the reappraisal of county property and Supt. Ralph W. Betts explained the reappraisal might cost the district some money in state foundation funds.

In discussing the high school problem, Betts said one solution would be to construct a building to house all laboratories and use the main high school only for academic subjects.

He estimated construction would probably cost about $1.5 million while an entirely new plant would run about double that.

Questioned on the millage necessary to retire a $3 million bond issue, the superintendent estimated it would require about 4 mills over a period of approximately 22 or 23 years. He emphasized it was an estimate based

Private Trash Service Eyed At Wellsville

Council May Drop City Refuse System Because Of Costs

Wellsville City Council and other city officials are investigating the possibility of discarding its present refuse collection system and turning the program over to a private collector.

The proposal was revealed partly at a meeting of City Council Tuesday night.

Various programs have been tried in the past to put the collection service on a paying basis but all have failed.

Mayor William Daugherty said that the city has lost approximately $50,000 since the system was started nine years ago.

Council voted an increase in the quarterly collection rates over a year ago. This helped some but did not solve the situation. Each year money must be taken from the general fund to make up the deficit.

Councilman Allen Baldwin said the program is not supported by the residents and there are a lot of "free loaders." If each family in the city would take the service, the department would be in good shape, he said.

It was then indicated that the city had received an offer from an individual to operate the collection service. Councilman William Stroble reported that the man also said he would take care of the city dump.

The dump also has been another "thorn in the side" of the city. Many complaints are received about the odor and smoke from rubbish which ignites.

Baldwin said the proposal is being studied and that full information will be presented at the next meeting.

He revealed that the idea was being considered. "We have checked different ways of putting the refuse collection service on a paying basis or possibly turning it over to a private collector. The refuse committee is co-operating with the mayor and safety - service director in the study," he said.

Earlier this year the mayor revised the collection list to cut out those who were receiving the service but not paying the quarterly fee. Other economic measures also have been taken.

The financial report for the month of April showed a March balance of $760.61 in the refuse fund. Receipts for April totaled $2,294 while disbursements were $2,637.35, leaving a balance of $417.26.

U.S. Action May Speed Laos Talks

Show Of Military Power In Thailand Cited By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has told members of Congress he believes the U.S. show of military strength in Thailand may speed lagging negotiations to form a coalition government in Laos.

Members who were briefed at a White House session Tuesday said the President and his advisers feel the troop buildup in Thailand —which they said is likely to go beyond the 5,000-man total publicly announced—is bringing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan around to the idea of negotiating.

Phoumi, reputed Laotian strongman in the government of pro-Western Premier Boun Oum, has resisted U.S. pressure to join in a coalition regime. He was said to have given indications since the Thailand buildup that he now is ready to talk about taking part in a neutral government.

Kennedy was represented as pleased that neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, who has tried to act as a buffer between Boun Oum and Pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong, is returning to Laos from Paris.

In response to questions put by Republican conferees, Kennedy is said to have reported that Phouma is committed not to agree to any settlement which would let Communists take over key defense and interior posts in any coalition government.

Kennedy made it clear at the conference—held in advance of the latest U.S.-Soviet agreement on the necessity for an effective Laotian cease-fire—that while he considered it remote, he was not ruling out the possibility that U.S. troops might have to go into Laos.

Staff Rushed In Tax Filing

Penalties Forgiven For City Returns

The ordinance calls for a $5 penalty for belated filings, but the extra charge will not be assessed for a few days — at least until the staff has an opportunity to process 500 or more returns received through the mail since Friday, Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said.

He said about 150 pieces of mail were received this morning, most of them apparently containing tax returns.

Wilkinson said his staff probably will not be caught up before Saturday on processing the mail. The rush has been so heavy in the last few days that the workers were unable to process any returns except those filed in person, he explained.

There was a long line of prospective taxpayers throughout yesterday. The line extended along the wall of the office in the basement of City Hall and into the hallway outside at some times.

When the office first announced the deadline for filing individual returns, Wilkinson estimated about 4,300 would be required to submit the reports. Persons whose entire income is subject to withholding at the source are not required to file the reports.

Senate Intensifies Probe

Another Federal Farm Aide Fired Over Estes Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate pumped more juice into its investigation of the crackling Billie Sol Estes case today as another government aide—James T. Ralph—was fired for his connections with the free-wheeling financier.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, himself bombarded by Republican demands that he resign, dismissed Ralph Tuesday, saying an FBI investigation showed that Estes had paid some of Ralph's telephone bills.

Ralph, a Kennedy administration appointee stepped down last February as an assistant secretary of agriculture to train as an agriculture attache in the Philippines. He said his firing was unjustified and came as a complete surprise. He said he planned to issue a statement later.

In his year as assistant secretary, Ralph was in charge of the department's crop-control, price-support and grain-storage programs.

Estes was one of Texas' biggest operators in cotton and grain storage.

Today, the Senate Investigations subcommittee put into high gear its probe of Estes, who built a business empire on government farm programs and on "Buy now, pay later" credit.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the subcommittee, disclosed he had subpoenaed Estes for questioning about alleged influence deals with government officials.

He also announced he was throwing "a dozen more investigators, maybe more," into the widening investigation.

Candidates backed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower scored runaway victories Tuesday for Republican gubernatorial nominations in Pennsylvania and Nebraska while Maryland's Democratic Gov J. Millard Tawes was winning a tighter race for renomination.

The Eisenhower-endorsed primary victors were Rep. William Scranton in Pennsylvania and Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower administration, in Nebraska.

Tawes overcame allegations of patronage peddling to win nomination for a second term by a solid margin in what had been rated a very close race. The former state comptroller, 68,

Laos Troops Move Back Into Village Abandoned Friday

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A dozen U.S. Air Force jets flew into Bangkok today as the spearhead of a new U.S. Southeast Asian command to help defend Thailand from any Communist thrust from Laos.

As the swift Super Sabres landed, U.S. military sources reported that Laotian troops had moved back into Houei Sai, the Laotian border village they abandoned last Friday before a Communist offensive.

American sources said the main body of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and its North Vietnamese supporters apparently had faded back 50 miles from Houei Sai. This force was reported at Vien Phou Kha, 40 miles south of Nam Tha, the provincial capital of northwest Laos overrun nearly two weeks ago at the start of the Red drive in northern Laos.

About 300 Laotian troops who fled across the Mekong River into Thailand, moved back into Houei Sai and set up a defense perimeter 10 miles outside the town, authoritative sources said.

The first U.S. F100 jet Super Sabres which arrived were from the 13th Air Force Squadron in the Philippines. They can fly 1,000 miles an hour and pack a lethal load of explosives.

Expected later were eight more F100s and a squadron of A4D Skyhawks, slower but able to hit hard with a load of 6,000 pounds of bombs.

They were to be followed at dawn Thursday (about 6 p.m., EDT today) by about 1,800 combat Marines to be landed at a Thai naval base south of Bangkok from ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Gulf of Siam.

Military sources said C130 transport planes would be flown

Bus Lay-Over Spot Changed On 3 Of Runs

Another change will be made Thursday in the lineup of buses using the heart of the business district as an "outdoor terminal" and city officials hope it will be the last, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said today.

Effective with the first runs tomorrow, the Wellsville and Newell buses no longer will use the west side of the Diamond as a stopping place, as the arrangement was impractical, particularly from the standpoint of traffic interference, the director said.

And a switch also will be made in the stopping place of Chester buses so that three runs — and not four — will be halting on the east side of the Diamond, the director added.

The Newell bus will lay - over on W. 5th St., immediately west of Market St. The Wellsville bus will halt on W. 6th St., just off the Diamond. The Chester bus will lay - over on the north side of the Diamond (the side nearest the Little Building). It will park alongside the chain fence abutting the crosswalk at the Diamond fountain.

The East End, Grandview and Pleasant Heights buses will continue to lay - over on the east side of the Diamond between Diamond Alley and E. 6th St.

Owen worked out the changes

Penalties Forgiven For City Returns

Although the deadline fell Tuesday, a rush continued today as individuals whose income is not subject to withholding at the source filed estimates of 1962 earnings with the city income tax office.

The ordinance calls for a $5 penalty for belated filings, but the extra charge will not be assessed for a few days — at least until the staff has an opportunity to process 500 or more returns received through the mail since Friday, Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said.

He said about 150 pieces of mail were received this morning, most of them apparently containing tax returns.

Wilkinson said his staff probably will not be caught up before Saturday on processing the mail. The rush has been so heavy in the last few days that the workers were unable to process any returns except those filed in person, he explained.

There was a long line of prospective taxpayers throughout yesterday. The line extended along the wall of the office in the basement of City Hall and into the hallway outside at some times.

When the office first announced the deadline for filing individual returns, Wilkinson estimated about 4,300 would be required to submit the reports. Persons whose entire income is subject to withholding at the source are not required to file the reports.

Beaver Vote Light In Primary In Area And County Races

Rep. Frank M. Clark, Bessemer Democrat, and Harvey Robinson, Brighton Township Republican, were paired in the Pennsylvania 25th Congressional district primary Tuesday for the bid for Congress Nov. 6.

Clark, seeking his fifth term, was an easy victor over his party opponent, Harry Pepper of Butler, in capturing the nomination in the three-county district of Beaver, Lawrence and Butler. Their vote:

Clark	25,161
Pepper	6,308

Scranton Gets Heavy Vote In Governor Bid

By The Associated Press

Candidates backed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower scored runaway victories Tuesday for Republican gubernatorial nominations in Pennsylvania and Nebraska while Maryland's Democratic Gov J. Millard Tawes was winning a tighter race for renomination.

The Eisenhower-endorsed primary victors were Rep. William Scranton in Pennsylvania and Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower administration, in Nebraska.

Tawes overcame allegations of patronage peddling to win nomination for a second term by a solid margin in what had been rated a very close race. The former state comptroller, 68,

Bus Lay-Over Spot Changed On 3 Of Runs

Another change will be made Thursday in the lineup of buses using the heart of the business district as an "outdoor terminal" and city officials hope it will be the last, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said today.

Effective with the first runs tomorrow, the Wellsville and Newell buses no longer will use the west side of the Diamond as a stopping place, as the arrangement was impractical, particularly from the standpoint of traffic interference, the director said.

And a switch also will be made in the stopping place of Chester buses so that three runs — and not four — will be halting on the east side of the Diamond, the director added.

The Newell bus will lay - over on W. 5th St., immediately west of Market St. The Wellsville bus will halt on W. 6th St., just off the Diamond. The Chester bus will lay - over on the north side of the Diamond (the side nearest the Little Building). It will park alongside the chain fence abutting the crosswalk at the Diamond fountain.

The East End, Grandview and Pleasant Heights buses will continue to lay - over on the east side of the Diamond between Diamond Alley and E. 6th St.

Owen worked out the changes

The assessed valuation of the school district is $47,379,472 while the valuation per pupil is $8,566 based on figures for the 1960-61 school year. The average valuation per pupil throughout the state is $14,530.

The total cost per pupil in East Liverpool, using 1959-60 figures, is $294.15 while the state average is $333.83. A difference of roughly $39 doesn't appear to be too much but, the superintendent pointed out, if the difference was avialable to the board it would amount to some $214,000 for the district on an enrollment of 5,500 pupils.

Among 10 surrounding school districts, the city ranks seventh in expenditures per child and ranks 53rd among 64 Ohio cities in the 10,000-to-29,999 population range.

The East Liverpool district, with a total school tax of 22.8 mills, including 3.6 for debt retirement, is tied for ninth among 11 school districts in Columbiana County, reports showed.

Current appropriations also were discussed with Betts pointing to the payroll requiring about 70 per cent of the budget.

At the next seminar, sources of income available to schools also will be discussed along with hopes for a recommendation to guide the board in the levy question.

Bus

The Wellsville and Newell buses were removed from the west side of the Diamond because their layovers there interfered with heavy traffic on Route 30 and made loading and unloading difficult for business places which have no rear entrances, the director said.

The Chester line was removed from its spot on the east side of the Diamond because the available curb space was enough for three buses, but not four, Owen explained.

The two bus lines — Tri-State Transit Co. and Inter-City Transit Co. — discontinued use of the Bus Terminal, effective Monday, because the terminal concourse will be revamped to become the new location of the local State Liquor Store.

Council, in a formal motion, asked the director to work out lay-over arrangements for the buses and suggested the plan for using both sides of the Diamond.

Firm Applies Coating On Roofs At City Hall

The Minute Man Roofing Co. of East Liverpool has started work on a $994 contract for applying a new roof coating on City Hall, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said today.

A layer of fiberglass fabric and two coats of asphaltic compound will be applied to the roof over the main segment of the building, another over the jail and a third on the police garage, the director said.

Council authorized the director to have the work performed to correct a series of chronic leaks that has caused damage to the ceiling in the Municipal Court chamber and adjoining stairwells.

Owen said he received another bid on the job, but the price for material alone was nearly equal to the Minute Man firm's bid for both material and application.

About 25 attended a meeting of officers of Beaver Local School District organizations Tuesday night at the Public School at which school programs were aired.

Urban Petros, elementary supervisor, spoke on the ungraded first grade program at the Elkton School, and Roy Cashdollar, Public School principal, discussed the remedial reading and developmental reading classes in the middle grades.

Walter Lineberry, high school science director, spoke on changes in the science department, including physics and chemistry programs. George VanHorne, executive head, discussed various school and education philosophy matters.

The third in the series of school meetings—launched with a round-up meeting April 30 — will be held in about two weeks, with the date to be announced.

Man Given Term On Assault Case

Ernest Junior Kelly, 20, of 803 High St., East End, charged with aggravated assault and battery as an aftermath of a Midland street fight, was sentenced today in Beaver County Court at Beaver to serve six months in jail, pay the costs and a $50 fine and make restitution of $4.57.

He will be eligible for parole in 60 days if the money is paid, the court said. He originally was charged with assault with intent to kill, but it was changed to the lesser charge.

Kelly was involved in a "free-for-all" fight May 1 in Midland in which John Gordon, 24, of 512 Beaver Ave., Midland, received a laceration of the neck.

Also sentenced today was John Thomas Travers of Greene Township, who was charged with a liquor violation at South Side American Legion Post 952, near Hookstown. He was ordered to pay costs and a $200 fine and to be jailed until he pays.

Jurors Hear Defendant In Assault Case

The trial of Edward Louis Carrothers moved into its second day today in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland with the 21-year-old Steubenville area man taking the stand in his own defense on the charge he assaulted Atty. Frank Pietranton Nov. 27 on Route 66 north of New Cumberland.

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr rested the state's case Monday at 3:45 p.m. after testimony by four law enforcement officers who investigated the alleged assault on Atty. Pietranton.

Atty. Pietranton, former county prosecutor, was assaulted by two men along a rural road. He was injured slightly in a scuffle after the pair had demanded he give them his car.

He testified Monday of details of the assualt, stating that he was driving home at 6:40 p.m. when he came upon an old car blocking the road.

One man approached his car, Atty. Pietranton testified, and said: "I want your car, get out." Pietranton said the man had a pistol pointed at his head.

After emerging from the car, he was struck on the left rear of the head by a second man, he said. A scuffle followed and Atty. Pietranton testified he was struck several blows across the knees. The assailants fled in their own car, with one saying, "Let's get out of here, this guy is a toughie," he related.

Atty. Pietranton testified he later identified Carrothers as one of the assailants at the Jefferson County Jail in Steubenville, where the defendant was held on another offense.

First witness for the defense Monday was Mrs. Mary Whitacre, mother of the defendant. Offering testimony for the state were Deputies James Knox and Joseph Rainey of the sheriff's office, State Trooper T. S. Chidester and Deputy Matthew Galich of Steubenville.

The jury includes Marvin E. Summers, Norma Murray, James G. Shaw, William H. Meissner, Carter J. Elliott, Irma L. Wares, Charles R. Shuman, Salem Grimm Jr., Leo R. Burton, Andrew Kondik, Albert Graham and Ann Presley.

Judge Ralph E. Pryor is presiding.

Democratic Club Turns Effort To November Voting

The East Liverpool Men's Democratic Club, meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel, made plans to concentrate its efforts on the campaign for the November general election. Twenty-nine attended.

Donald Hancock, president, urged all members to an all-out effort for success of the party ticket. James V. Flasco, chairman of the party's city central committee, pointed to the importance of precinct committeemen in city, county, state and national elections.

Plans were completed for the annual picnic Aug. 26 at Lake Arrowhead near Columbiana. Flasco and Hancock said a high state official is expected to be the principal speaker and confirmation of his appearance is due soon. Hancock urged continuing effort in a current membership campaign.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen also spoke. He discussed new bus lay-over arrangements in the Diamond area and displayed a diagram to show where buses on each run will halt.

Next meeting is June 12.

New Offer Made At Peerless Clay

Employes of the Peerless Clay Co. at Port Homer are scheduled to meet tonight in Wellsville to consider a new package offer covering plant working rules.

Members of Local 472, the 130 employes have been on strike since April 11 in a dispute over the rules.

A five-member committee headed by Leroy Piatt has recommended that the local accept the new offer.

The offer was made at a meeting of Peerless representatives and the United Brick and Clayworkers Union Tuesday in the Hotel Wilk in Wellsville.

Peerless employes struck April 11 after the old contract expired April 7. A new master contract covering clayworkers in a three-state area was signed April 21, but was effective only upon agreement between management and union of certain plant working rules.

Jurors Hear Defendant In Assault Case

The trial of Edward Louis Carrothers moved into its second day today in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland with the 21-year-old Steubenville area man taking the stand in his own defense on the charge he assaulted Atty. Frank Pietranton Nov. 27 on Route 66 north of New Cumberland.

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr rested the state's case Monday at 3:45 p.m. after testimony by four law enforcement officers who investigated the alleged assault on Atty. Pietranton.

Atty. Pietranton, former county prosecutor, was assaulted by two men along a rural road. He was injured slightly in a scuffle after the pair had demanded he give them his car.

He testified Monday of details of the assualt, stating that he was driving home at 6:40 p.m. when he came upon an old car blocking the road.

One man approached his car, Atty. Pietranton testified, and said: "I want your car, get out." Pietranton said the man had a pistol pointed at his head.

After emerging from the car, he was struck on the left rear of the head by a second man, he said. A scuffle followed and Atty. Pietranton testified he was struck several blows across the knees. The assailants fled in their own car, with one saying, "Let's get out of here, this guy is a toughie," he related.

Atty. Pietranton testified he later identified Carrothers as one of the assailants at the Jefferson County Jail in Steubenville, where the defendant was held on another offense.

First witness for the defense Monday was Mrs. Mary Whitacre, mother of the defendant. Offering testimony for the state were Deputies James Knox and Joseph Rainey of the sheriff's office, State Trooper T. S. Chidester and Deputy Matthew Galich of Steubenville.

The jury includes Marvin E. Summers, Norma Murray, James G. Shaw, William H. Meissner, Carter J. Elliott, Irma L. Wares, Charles R. Shuman, Salem Grimm Jr., Leo R. Burton, Andrew Kondik, Albert Graham and Ann Presley.

Judge Ralph E. Pryor is presiding.

Democratic Club Turns Effort To November Voting

The East Liverpool Men's Democratic Club, meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel, made plans to concentrate its efforts on the campaign for the November general election. Twenty-nine attended.

Donald Hancock, president, urged all members to an all-out effort for success of the party ticket. James V. Flasco, chairman of the party's city central committee, pointed to the importance of precinct committeemen in city, county, state and national elections.

Plans were completed for the annual picnic Aug. 26 at Lake Arrowhead near Columbiana. Flasco and Hancock said a high state official is expected to be the principal speaker and confirmation of his appearance is due soon. Hancock urged continuing effort in a current membership campaign.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen also spoke. He discussed new bus lay-over arrangements in the Diamond area and displayed a diagram to show where buses on each run will halt.

Next meeting is June 12.

New Offer Made At Peerless Clay

Employes of the Peerless Clay Co. at Port Homer are scheduled to meet tonight in Wellsville to consider a new package offer covering plant working rules.

Members of Local 472, the 130 employes have been on strike since April 11 in a dispute over the rules.

A five-member committee headed by Leroy Piatt has recommended that the local accept the new offer.

The offer was made at a meeting of Peerless representatives and the United Brick and Clayworkers Union Tuesday in the Hotel Wilk in Wellsville.

Peerless employes struck April 11 after the old contract expired April 7. A new master contract covering clayworkers in a three-state area was signed April 21, but was effective only upon agreement between management and union of certain plant working ruies.

The Saddest Part Of The Story

At the close of last week it was clear that the new hot spot on the trouble map was Southeast Asia, where military forces backed by the communists have massed a drive against military forces backed by anti-communists.

Having driven out the French colonials in Indochina, the communists were stiffening their attack on the new regimes patched together with the foreign aid of the United States. The ability of the Laotians to fight had vanished. The ability of the South Vietnamese was in question. The United States, already deeply involved in a buildup of South Viet Nam, was involving itself more deeply by committing the 7th Fleet to the area. Another Korea was in the making.

The story on the surface will be about military action—troop movements, engagements, skirmishes, supplies, aerial actions and the ebb and flow of battle. Again there will be the misery of refugees to report, along with the bland double-talk of political spokesmen on the scene and in the United States.

But the saddest part of the story will be neglected because it's history. No one has time for history amid gunfire. It's the history of Asiatics who never learned to put value on self-determination because nothing in their experience taught them what self-determination is.

When they are urged to fight against the evil of communism in order to enjoy the benefits of capitalism, they have no concept of either the evil or the benefits. They have known nothing but poverty and oppression in the past. They have lived in ignorance of the outside world and its ideological issues. Communism to them is not an evil in itself. It is more likely to appear to them as the way out of their despair, a chance to make a quick cleanup on promises to relieve their misery. No one ever promised them anything before.

They are obsessed with ideas of nationalism, a great stirring of emotional desire that Gen. MacArthur described as the dominant force in Asia after he had been relieved of his command in Korea. They have no reason to be grateful to the Western powers that exploited them in the past. They have no immediate reason to mistrust the communist promises of a better future. No one ever promised them a better future.

Cigarette Box From The Kennedys

Among the wedding gifts showered down on Princess Sophia when she became the bride of Prince Juan Carlos was a gold cigaret box from President and Mrs. Kennedy of the United States.

The box signalized the esteem not only of the President and his lady but of the American people. And it is ironic that this should be so while there still are so many survivors of a generation that sent its young men to war to wipe out European royalty and make the world safe for democracy.

A lot of dictatorships have gone over the dam since then. Americans are by no means certain now that getting rid of royalty made the world safe for anything but confusion.

It is possible to seek objectivity in 1962 in appraising the service of royalty. The monarchy business isn't what it used to be, and perhaps it never was what it was said to be. Kings and queens in this era have no thought of tinkering with despotism. They leave that to dictators and rabble-rousers.

They couldn't get away with despotism in the first place, and in the second place they wouldn't try to get away with it because it would be contrary to their training. Their function, as it has been taught to them in recent years, is to be a fountainhead of wisdom about their kingdoms, leaving day-to-day decisions and political strategy to short-term functionaries whose time in the sun will be soon past.

They perform at this best when they are with but not of the people they rule; when they are exemplars of the national dignity and the masters of its graces — rallying points for popular admiration in times of stress.

Prince Juan may become king of Spain when its dictator dies. His bride is the daughter of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece, two of the most successful of the Old World's royalty. Among the guests at their wedding were Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, King Olav V of Norway, Queen Ingrid of Denmark. All the great names of royalty were represented — the Hohenzollerns, Hapsburgs and Bourbons.

It has been a long time indeed since American boys fought to abolish European royalty and make the world safe for democracy.

Someone Asked A Question

So many firecrackers are exploding in the Billie Sol Estes affair that they can't keep track of them. But one fact didn't need to wait on exposure of this incredible sage of big-time payola.

It's the fact that the Texan who is beginning to look like the 20th century's champion wheeler and dealer would still be dealing and wheeling if a Texas newspaperman hadn't begun to ask questions.

The newspaperman was curious about the source of so much wealth. He was curious about a rate of personal spending that bespoke a multimillionaire. He was curious about the widely held belief that Billie Sol Estes was in fact a multimillionaire. He doubted it.

All it took was probing curiosity to reveal that the man had been doing the whole thing on other people's money. He had been a genius at a confidence game played on a scale so gargantuan it defied understanding.

Estes paid no federal income tax for 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960, according to information obtained by Earl Mazp of The New York Herald Tribune. That could have been the tipoff for the Washingtonians who luxuriated in the glow of his prodigal spending.

It could have been the tipoff for the supposedly prudent money handlers who furnished funds for him by the wheelbarrow and never asked the questions that finally wrecked his house of cards.

But in the confidence game Estes was playing—in any confidence game—the mouths of questioners are buttoned shut by their own avarice. They are mulcted because they are bemused by easy money.

Afterward, everybody wants to know why no one asked questions. The answer is always the same. They didn't want to break up a good thing.

Odd, is it not, that all the politicians, bureaucrats, financiers, farmers and businessmen now squirming like snakes in a hot skillet were so willing to let well enough alone as long as the money kept coming?

The Once Over

This is the season when the miracle of the Resurrection is taking place in field and garden, in street and yard. Through leaf and bud has come the testament to the everlasting life.

The lilac in the shadow of an old barn has told overnight the deathless story more convincingly than preachers in great cathedrals throughout the ages.

The gnarled apple by the woodshed has removed doubt in the twinkling of an eye. Now from a back porch the stone is seen rolled away through a wondrous screen of dogwood, forsytia and cherry blossoms.

Death flames into life through daffodil and crocus, symbolizing "I am the life," where the hard, crusty earth made drab the scene for long winter months.

"He is not here; He is risen" is wafted on the soft breeze across hillsides.

In a patch of violets beside a battered fence is the message "Put in thy finger and be not faithless but believing." The tulip seems the chalice of the Last Supper. Through every greening leaf comes "A little while and ye shall not see Me; and again a little while and ye shall see Me."

All winter the gaunt trees have been the symbol of Gethsemane. Bare shrubbery has been the narrator of the betrayal in the garden and the anguish of Golgotha.

All nature had seemed dead with guards set over it, and now, as if by the waving of a wand, life and beauty bloom; warmth and glory return.

Hope and faith are fortified in a breath-taking sermon beyond the power of human lips.

Through scanty blossoms in a cracked flowerpot in tenement window, and the flash of an azalia in the slums is seen the picture of Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of James, and Salome very early in the morning, the sun being risen, hearing the comforting words "Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified, He is not here. He is risen."

From every tree comes a benediction. Each brook purrs a litany. Countless dandelions, like myriads of candles flashing against a green altar cloth, bring the spell of pure and holy mysteries.

Daylight Time

Since the days of Benjamin Franklin, daylight saving time has provoked argument between slugabeds and those who rise with the lark. They may never see eye to eye.

Franklin first proposed daylight saving time when he was United States minister to France just after the American Revolution, the National Geographic Society says.

Franklin, who knew a penny saved is a penny earned, figured that in spring and summer Parisians unnecessarily burned candles for 1,281 hours. "It is impossible," he wrote, "that a wise people (make) use of unhealthy and expensive candles (when) they can have for nothing the beautiful and pure light of the sun." But Paris laughed him down.

Not until 1907 was the idea revived by an Englishman, William Willett. He wrote a pamphlet entitled "The Waste of Daylight," advocating that clocks be advanced 80 minutes in the summer. "While daylight surrounds us, cheerfulness reigns, anxieties press less heavily, and courage is bred for the struggle of life," Willett argued.

Great Britain finally adopted fast time in World War I to conserve power and fuel. It is now a permanent fixture.

Willett's counterpart in the United States was Robert Garland of Pittsburgh.

Tito Is Passing The Buck

By Victor Riesel

Marshal Tito has gone into furious orbit around his human satellites. He is angry with his people because his country appears to be running out of Yugoslavian dinars and American dollars. But the Communist chief really is passing the buck. He'd have more of our cash in his coffers if he hadn't been spending it to bolster anti-United States and pro-Sino-Soviet countries.

Victor Riesel

While he has been borrowing millions from the United States, Tito, for example, has been pledging heavy credits to the bitterly anti-American Ghanaian government. Reports here reveal that during the final weeks of April a six-man Yugoslavian trade delegation dealt handsomely with Ghana's president Kwame Nkrumah.

First the Yugoslavs pledged Belgrade credits and technicians for the construction of a harbor and naval base at Sekondi, on the western coast of Ghana. That was on April 26. On the same day Yugoslavia borrowed $4.3 million from the Export - Import Bank here.

Tito's men also committed Belgrade to the shipment of millions of dollars worth of cement, asbestos sheets and pipes, agricultural and industrial machinery, motor vehicles and bicycles, tools, pumps and other hardware.

TO BEEF UP the food supplies of the land which has no stomach for us, Tito promised to build four slaughter houses in different parts of Ghana. Also a pineapple juice processing and canning plant. Also the delivery of many tractors. All on credit.

It was a busy, busy day for the Ghanaians. On April 26 — almost at the very hour when Tito, who owes us billions, was lending Ghana millions — the official Accra radio denounced the United States. It championed Russia. It defended Mao Tse-tung's capture of the Chinese mainland. It broadcast rather snarling attacks at our bomb testing. It pooh-poohed those who expressed anger over the Russian military suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

The April 26 attack on the United States was in the form of a broadcast reply by the Ghanaian official radio to a speech some of us heard AFL-CIO president, George Meany, deliver at a luncheon on April 23.

IT WAS a short, blunt but quiet speech to 150 members of U.N. delegations and some of their friends. Meany — a very tough anti-Communist — said, in effect, that anger over colonialism in Asia and Africa should be matched by bitterness and indignation over "brutal denial of self-determination for 100 million people in Europe."

This, the Ghanaians, who are taking money from the Yugoslavs, who are taking money from us, didn't like. They referred to Meany as "obsessed" with his opposition to the Sino-Soviet ideology and economic system.

As for Meany's criticism of Soviet China, the Accra radio said: "That state was born as a result of a revolution ... the common people, under Communist leadership, rose up against the ... tyranny of the ... bourgeois oppressors. The Communist leaders had such tremendous support from the common people that they overran the vast territory ...

George Meany had also referred to the Russian army's brutalizing of the Hungarian anti-Communist revolt of 1956. This the Ghana radio didn't like.

THE BROADCAST, in effect, told Meany to mind his own business. True, there has been an "unfortunate loss of life," said the speaker.

"Basically, it can't be denied," said the Ghanaian official spokesman, "that whatever happened, it was a matter involving the government of Hungarian nationals and a section of the Hungarian people.

"But it was not even only that; the issue, without any shadow of doubt, was one involving the cold war."

This is the line taken by the Soviet government after its tanks and big guns made a shambles of Budapest and shot down 12-year old children and women as well as the freedom fighters. There were other broadcasts and there were anti-U.S. editorials in the controlled Ghanaian press that day — including a warning to the world that we might be destroying the moon with our rocket.

This then is the land which is getting such vast credits and hardware and know-how from Yugoslavia, which is getting millions and hardware from us. Doesn't anybody care?

Letter To Editor

Sunday, May 13, (Mother's Day) I sat with several hundred persons and listened to our A Cappella Choir and our Madrigal Singers, directed by Miss Phyllis E. Zimmerman. Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Malone, I was given this privilege.

Wellsville and the tri-state area have every right to be justly proud of our choirs, under the able leadership of our director. We, of Wellsville, are very fortunate to be thus honored. We listened, most humbly, to a choir second to none and much better than most college A Cappella Choirs. Our "hats are off" to these outstanding, well-behaved, creative voices and to their director for a job well done. We are proud of you and the fact that you have been invited to return to the Music Hall next year.

Let us not forget the outstanding performance given by our high school band this past week under the capable leadership of Theodore Koenig. Three cheers for Wellsville High!

What Of NATO?

By Marguerite Higgins

Statesmen Wonder About The Future

Will NATO become obsolescent as a military alliance sometime in the next three to five years?

Will the emergence of France as an independent nuclear power with its own striking force (due in mid 1963) contribute to the fading away of NATO?

Is it even possible that the doom sayers are wrong and that the fading away of NATO need not be a catastrophe?

Is it possible for instance that a new more nearly coequal military arrangement can be made between the United States and Europe than presently exists under NATO?

These questions may be heretical to the New Frontier, but they are being asked by responsible European statesmen trying to gauge the course of the swift currents being created by the old continent's new found unity.

As reported from Athens, the United States has made a gesture to the alliance by, among other things, assigning five Polaris submarines to NATO. But the gesture is a little like giving a present to oneself.

It does not touch the heart of the matter — a nuclear deterrent for Europe independent of Washington's control. There is still only one finger on the trigger — that of President Kennedy.

Those five submarines cannot be used in Europe's defense unless and until President Kennedy decides this is in the interest of Europe and the United States.

For more than a decade, of course, Europe was in fact content to let the United States keep control — and thus decisive responsibility — for nuclear weapons. Why after all these years is the situation changing?

NATO, which has so far served the free world magnificently as a shield against Communist aggression, is now in trouble on the nuclear sharing issue mainly for these reasons?

1. When the United States was emerging as a nuclear power in the early post-war days, Europe was bruised, battered and distraught. In its infancy, the new Europe was in no position to even think about protecting itself against Soviet power and required the United States as a shield to gain time to rebuild.

In 1949, when NATO was established, the world was in a period of nuclear scarcity in which only rich nations of enormous industrial strength could participate in atomic production. In short, Europe had to depend on the United States in the early NATO days because there was no practical alternative.

Today there is an alternative, as Gen. de Gaulle is in the process of demonstrating. Europe has grown up and this is an age of nuclear plenty.

Any major world power can turn out atomic weapons if it wishes to make the effort. It is one thing for the head of a major world power to tell his people "we depend on America for the weapons and judgments that can admittedly mean the life or death of Europe because we have no other alternative."

It is another for a head of government to admit that his country, contrary to all precedents in history, surrenders the sovereign decision of war and peace to another nation because he does not want to call on his people to make the effort to regain this right and power of decision.

2. President Kennedy's policies against nuclear sharing have deepened the doubts of European leaders — not excluding Gen. de Gaulle — about the American philosophy of dealing with the Russian.

For instance, President Kennedy's decision against giving France even non-secret military hardware for its nuclear program is understood to be a part of America's efforts to obtain a modus vivendi with the Soviet Union. This effort is appreciated as sincere and well motivated. But Mr. Kennedy's efforts are regarded as based on a false premise.

HIS DECISION against giving to an ally information already known to the enemy is viewed as a kind of concession in advance in hopes of inducing Russia to enter an agreement against nuclear sharing.

Neither of the two major continental powers—France and West Germany believe that giving concessions in advance is in principle the way to deal with the Russians because this response to Soviet pressure removes any real incentive for serious negotiation.

Why should the Russians negotiate seriously on a quid pro quo basis if they can get what they want without it?

And this is but one of many, many examples of the basic cleavage between France and Bonn on the one hand and Washington and London on the other.

It is clear that an alliance is under strain when the two major European powers are opposed to the cold war strategy of the nation on which they must depend for life and death decisions.

What is the alternative to NATO: The best answer appears to be the creation of a European defense community based on the six Common Market countries. The European defense community would be allied to the United States, Britain and possibly the other NATO allies.

It would have its own nuclear deterrent growing in due timeout of France's nuclear efforts. While this would always be considerably less than United States nuclear power, it nonetheless would give Europe a sense of partnership as distinguished from the present situation where in the military sphere the continental powers have been America's most expensive dependent.

America has been urging Europe to stand on its own feet. And after the initial parental shock in discovering that the child not only has grown up but talks back, America may be able to turn the changed relationship to a proud new Europe to greater advantage than the old one.

Billy Sol Estes' Lamb

By Truman Twill

Another thing about Billy Sol Estes that needs to be cleared up is that lamb he parlayed into a $38,000 farm investment. Silly people believed that one too and the boy was not out of his teens.

We are quoting from The Wall Street Journal's account of Billy Sol's younger days:

"In 1943 he was the national winner of the 4-H, the rural youth organization. The prize was a set of silverware given by Franklin D. Roosevelt. The 4-H award climaxed six years of club work during which time, according to the citation, 'he pyramided the profits from a lamb into a $38,000 farm investment.'"

All this started with one lamb the boy prodigy was given for Christmas the year he was 13. He raised a flock of sheep, which he sold for $3,000 two years later when he was 15. He invested the $3,000 in sows and piglets and these, together with wheeling and dealing in grain ran up the $38,000 stake that impressed the 4-H people six years later.

It should have impressed them.

That must have been a prodigious lamb to turn out a flock of 100 sheep in two years. Even if it was female and had a boy friend, the best it could do each year would be triplets. All right, make it quadruplets and grant that all were females. Lambs do not have lambs; they must grow up and become sheep first. There is no way one lamb could produce the makings of a flock of 100 sheep in two years or even 20 years.

Then that little joker about selling 100 sheep for $3,000. Even in Texas sheep aren't worth that kind of money.

Billy Sol Estes apparently learned early in the game that people like a success story so well they will believe anything. They made a wheeler and dealer out of a kid who otherwise could have grown up to be a genteel failure.

In that case neither the 4-H people nor the Junior Chamber of Commerce people would have given him a second glance. But thanks to success stories he made the grade with both organizations.

He could have been nipped in the bud by a look at the books on those fool sheep. Someone should have nabbed Young Billy Sol by the ear and said, "Now look, son, you aren't going to get away with it. Tell us where you got the money."

I have strong feelings about this. When our family moved to the country each son was given three sheep. The idea was to develop a fortune, meanwhile teaching them about thrift, hard work and management.

The fortune never materialized. As for the good lessons about thrift, hard work and management, the kids might as well have spent their formative years in pool halls.

I learned about thrift, hard work and management. And to this day, the sheep at the Twillery do not pay their own way, not even if the shepherd gives his time and effort gratis.

Billy Sol Estes and his $38,000 beginning with a single lamb. What a whopper!

The United States, already deeply involved in a buildup of South Viet Nam, was involving itself more deeply by committing the 7th Fleet to the area. Another Korea was in the making.

The story on the surface will be about military action—troop movements, engagements, skirmishes, supplies, aerial actions and the ebb and flow of battle. Again there will be the misery of refugees to report, along with the bland double-talk of political spokesmen on the scene and in the United States.

But the saddest part of the story will be neglected because it's history. No one has time for history amid gunfire. It's the history of Asiatics who never learned to put value on self-determination because nothing in their experience taught them what self-determination is.

When they are urged to fight against the evil of communism in order to enjoy the benefits of capitalism, they have no concept of either the evil or the benefits. They have known nothing but poverty and oppression in the past. They have lived in ignorance of the outside world and its ideological issues. Communism to them is not an evil in itself. It is more likely to appear to them as the way out of their despair, a chance to make a quick cleanup on promises to relieve their misery. No one ever promised them anything before.

They are obsessed with ideas of nationalism, a great stirring of emotional desire that Gen. MacArthur described as the dominant force in Asia after he had been relieved of his command in Korea. They have no reason to be grateful to the Western powers that exploited them in the past. They have no immediate reason to mistrust the communist promises of a better future. No one ever promised them a better future.

Cigarette Box From The Kennedys

Among the wedding gifts showered down on Princess Sophia when she became the bride of Prince Juan Carlos was a gold cigaret box from President and Mrs. Kennedy of the United States.

The box signalized the esteem not only of the President and his lady but of the American people. And it is ironic that this should be so while there still are so many survivors of a generation that sent its young men to war to wipe out European royalty and make the world safe for democracy.

A lot of dictatorships have gone over the dam since then. Americans are by no means certain now that getting rid of royalty made the world safe for anything but confusion.

It is possible to seek objectivity in 1962 in appraising the service of royalty. The monarchy business isn't what it used to be, and perhaps it never was what it was said to be. Kings and queens in this era have no thought of tinkering with despotism. They leave that to dictators and rabble-rousers.

They couldn't get away with despotism in the first place, and in the second place they wouldn't try to get away with it because it would be contrary to their training. Their function, as it has been taught to them in recent years, is to be a fountainhead of wisdom about their kingdoms, leaving day-to-day decisions and political strategy to short-term functionaries whose time in the sun will be soon past.

They perform at this best when they are with but not of the people they rule; when they are exemplars of the national dignity and the masters of its graces — rallying points for popular admiration in times of stress.

Prince Juan may become king of Spain when its dictator dies. His bride is the daughter of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece, two of the most successful of the Old World's royalty. Among the guests at their wedding were Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, King Olav V of Norway, Queen Ingrid of Denmark. All the great names of royalty were represented — the Hohenzollerns, Hapsburgs and Bourbons.

It has been a long time indeed since American boys fought to abolish European royalty and make the world safe for democracy.

Someone Asked A Question

So many firecrackers are exploding in the Billie Sol Estes affair that they can't keep track of them. But one fact didn't need to wait on exposure of this incredible sage of big-time payola.

It's the fact that the Texan who is beginning to look like the 20th century's champion wheeler and dealer would still be dealing and wheeling if a Texas newspaperman hadn't begun to ask questions.

The newspaperman was curious about the source of so much wealth. He was curious about a rate of personal spending that bespoke a multimillionaire. He was curious about the widely held belief that Billie Sol Estes was in fact a multimillionaire. He doubted it.

All it took was probing curiosity to reveal that the man had been doing the whole thing on other people's money. He had been a genius at a confidence game played on a scale so gargantuan it defied understanding.

Estes paid no federal income tax for 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960, according to information obtained by Earl Mazp of The New York Herald Tribune. That could have been the tipoff for the Washingtonians who luxuriated in the glow of his prodigal spending.

It could have been the tipoff for the supposedly prudent money handlers who furnished funds for him by the wheelbarrow and never asked the questions that finally wrecked his house of cards.

But in the confidence game Estes was playing—in any confidence game—the mouths of questioners are buttoned shut by their own avarice. They are mulcted because they are bemused by easy money.

Afterward, everybody wants to know why no one asked questions. The answer is always the same. They didn't want to break up a good thing.

Odd, is it not, that all the politicians, bureaucrats, financiers, farmers and businessmen now squirming like snakes in a hot skillet were so willing to let well enough alone as long as the money kept coming?

The Once Over

This is the season when the miracle of the Resurrection is taking place in field and garden, in street and yard. Through leaf and bud has come the testament to the everlasting life.

The lilac in the shadow of an old barn has told overnight the deathless story more convincingly than preachers in great cathedrals throughout the ages.

The gnarled apple by the woodshed has removed doubt in the twinkling of an eye. Now from a back porch the stone is seen rolled away through a wondrous screen of dogwood, forsytia and cherry blossoms.

Death flames into life through daffodil and crocus, symbolizing "I am the life," where the hard, crusty earth made drab the scene for long winter months.

"He is not here; He is risen" is wafted on the soft breeze across hillsides.

In a patch of violets beside a battered fence is the message "Put in thy finger and be not faithless but believing." The tulip seems the chalice of the Last Supper. Through every greening leaf comes "A little while and ye shall not see Me; and again a little while and ye shall see Me."

All winter the gaunt trees have been the symbol of Gethsemane. Bare shrubbery has been the narrator of the betrayal in the garden and the anguish of Golgotha.

All nature had seemed dead with guards set over it, and now, as if by the waving of a wand, life and beauty bloom; warmth and glory return.

Hope and faith are fortified in a breath-taking sermon beyond the power of human lips.

Through scanty blossoms in a cracked flowerpot in tenement window, and the flash of an azalia in the slums is seen the picture of Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of James, and Salome very early in the morning, the sun being risen, hearing the comforting words "Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified, He is not here. He is risen."

From every tree comes a benediction. Each brook purrs a litany. Countless dandelions, like myriads of candles flashing against a green altar cloth, bring the spell of pure and holy mysteries.

Here is seen the greatest story ever told. And there are few of any religion or sect who don't find soul-stirring influences sustaining belief in basic teachings. Thanks, Spring, for the super production.

Daylight Time

Since the days of Benjamin Franklin, daylight saving time has provoked argument between slugabeds and those who rise with the lark. They may never see eye to eye.

Franklin first proposed daylight saving time when he was United States minister to France just after the American Revolution, the National Geographic Society says.

Franklin, who knew a penny saved is a penny earned, figured that in spring and summer Parisians unnecessarily burned candles for 1,281 hours. "It is impossible," he wrote, "that a wise people (make) use of unhealthy and expensive candles (when) they can have for nothing the beautiful and pure light of the sun." But Paris laughed him down.

Not until 1907 was the idea revived by an Englishman, William Willett. He wrote a pamphlet entitled "The Waste of Daylight," advocating that clocks be advanced 80 minutes in the summer. "While daylight surrounds us, cheerfulness reigns, anxieties press less heavily, and courage is bred for the struggle of life," Willett argued.

Great Britain finally adopted fast time in World War I to conserve power and fuel. It is now a permanent fixture.

Willett's counterpart in the United States was Robert Garland of Pittsburgh.

Tito Is Passing The Buck

By Victor Riesel

Marshal Tito has gone into furious orbit around his human satellites. He is angry with his people because his country appears to be running out of Yugoslavian dinars and American dollars. But the Communist chief really is passing the buck. He'd have more of our cash in his coffers if he hadn't been spending it to bolster anti-United States and pro-Sino-Soviet countries.

Victor Riesel

While he has been borrowing millions from the United States, Tito, for example, has been pledging heavy credits to the bitterly anti-American Ghanaian government. Reports here reveal that during the final weeks of April a six-man Yugoslavian trade delegation dealt handsomely with Ghana's president Kwame Nkrumah.

First the Yugoslavs pledged Belgrade credits and technicians for the construction of a harbor and naval base at Sekondi, on the western coast of Ghana. That was on April 26. On the same day Yugoslavia borrowed $4.3 million from the Export - Import Bank here.

Tito's men also committed Belgrade to the shipment of millions of dollars worth of cement, asbestos sheets and pipes, agricultural and industrial machinery, motor vehicles and bicycles, tools, pumps and other hardware.

TO BEEF UP the food supplies of the land which has no stomach for us, Tito promised to build four slaughter houses in different parts of Ghana. Also a pineapple juice processing and canning plant. Also the delivery of many tractors. All on credit.

It was a busy, busy day for the Ghanaians. On April 26 — almost at the very hour when Tito, who owes us billions, was lending Ghana millions — the official Accra radio denounced the United States. It championed Russia. It defended Mao Tse-tung's capture of the Chinese mainland. It broadcast rather snarling attacks at our bomb testing. It pooh-poohed those who expressed anger over the Russian military suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

The April 26 attack on the United States was in the form of a broadcast reply by the Ghanaian official radio to a speech some of us heard AFL-CIO president, George Meany, deliver at a luncheon on April 23.

IT WAS a short, blunt but quiet speech to 150 members of U.N. delegations and some of their friends. Meany — a very tough anti-Communist — said, in effect, that anger over colonialism in Asia and Africa should be matched by bitterness and indignation over "brutal denial of self-determination for 100 million people in Europe."

This, the Ghanaians, who are taking money from the Yugoslavs, who are taking money from us, didn't like. They referred to Meany as "obsessed" with his opposition to the Sino-Soviet ideology and economic system.

As for Meany's criticism of Soviet China, the Accra radio said: "That state was born as a result of a revolution ... the common people, under Communist leadership, rose up against the ... tyranny of the ... bourgeois oppressors. The Communist leaders had such tremendous support from the common people that they overran the vast territory ...

George Meany had also referred to the Russian army's brutalizing of the Hungarian anti-Communist revolt of 1956. This the Ghana radio didn't like.

THE BROADCAST, in effect, told Meany to mind his own business. True, there has been an "unfortunate loss of life," said the speaker.

"Basically, it can't be denied," said the Ghanaian official spokesman, "that whatever happened, it was a matter involving the government of Hungarian nationals and a section of the Hungarian people.

"But it was not even only that; the issue, without any shadow of doubt, was one involving the cold war."

This is the line taken by the Soviet government after its tanks and big guns made a shambles of Budapest and shot down 12-year old children and women as well as the freedom fighters. There were other broadcasts and there were anti-U.S. editorials in the controlled Ghanaian press that day — including a warning to the world that we might be destroying the moon with our rocket.

This then is the land which is getting such vast credits and hardware and know-how from Yugoslavia, which is getting millions and hardware from us. Doesn't anybody care?

Letter To Editor

Sunday, May 13, (Mother's Day) I sat with several hundred persons and listened to our A Cappella Choir and our Madrigal Singers, directed by Miss Phyllis E. Zimmerman. Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Malone, I was given this privilege.

Wellsville and the tri-state area have every right to be justly proud of our choirs, under the able leadership of our director. We, of Wellsville, are very fortunate to be thus honored. We listened, most humbly, to a choir second to none and much better than most college A Cappella Choirs. Our "hats are off" to these outstanding, well-behaved, creative voices and to their director for a job well done. We are proud of you and the fact that you have been invited to return to the Music Hall next year.

Let us not forget the outstanding performance given by our high school band this past week under the capable leadership of Theodore Koenig. Three cheers for Wellsville High!

What Of NATO?

By Marguerite Higgins

Statesmen Wonder About The Future

Will NATO become obsolescent as a military alliance sometime in the next three to five years?

Will the emergence of France as an independent nuclear power with its own striking force (due in mid 1963) contribute to the fading away of NATO?

Is it even possible that the doom sayers are wrong and that the fading away of NATO need not be a catastrophe?

Is it possible for instance that a new more nearly coequal military arrangement can be made between the United States and Europe than presently exists under NATO?

These questions may be heretical to the New Frontier, but they are being asked by responsible European statesmen trying to gauge the course of the swift currents being created by the old continent's new found unity.

As reported from Athens, the United States has made a gesture to the alliance by, among other things, assigning five Polaris submarines to NATO. But the gesture is a little like giving a present to oneself.

It does not touch the heart of the matter — a nuclear deterrent for Europe independent of Washington's control. There is still only one finger on the trigger — that of President Kennedy.

Those five submarines cannot be used in Europe's defense unless and until President Kennedy decides this is in the interest of Europe and the United States.

For more than a decade, of course, Europe was in fact content to let the United States keep control — and thus decisive responsibility — for nuclear weapons. Why after all these years is the situation changing?

NATO, which has so far served the free world magnificently as a shield against Communist aggression, is now in trouble on the nuclear sharing issue mainly for these reasons?

1. When the United States was emerging as a nuclear power in the early post-war days, Europe was bruised, battered and distraught. In its infancy, the new Europe was in no position to even think about protecting itself against Soviet power and required the United States as a shield to gain time to rebuild.

In 1949, when NATO was established, the world was in a period of nuclear scarcity in which only rich nations of enormous industrial strength could participate in atomic production. In short, Europe had to depend on the United States in the early NATO days because there was no practical alternative.

Today there is an alternative, as Gen. de Gaulle is in the process of demonstrating. Europe has grown up and this is an age of nuclear plenty.

Any major world power can turn out atomic weapons if it wishes to make the effort. It is one thing for the head of a major world power to tell his people "we depend on America for the weapons and judgments that can admittedly mean the life or death of Europe because we have no other alternative."

It is another for a head of government to admit that his country, contrary to all precedents in history, surrenders the sovereign decision of war and peace to another nation because he does not want to call on his people to make the effort to regain this right and power of decision.

2. President Kennedy's policies against nuclear sharing have deepened the doubts of European leaders — not excluding Gen. de Gaulle — about the American philosophy of dealing with the Russian.

For instance, President Kennedy's decision against giving France even non-secret military hardware for its nuclear program is understood to be a part of America's efforts to obtain a modus vivendi with the Soviet Union. This effort is appreciated as sincere and well motivated. But Mr. Kennedy's efforts are regarded as based on a false premise.

HIS DECISION against giving to an ally information already known to the enemy is viewed as a kind of concession in advance in hopes of inducing Russia to enter an agreement against nuclear sharing.

Neither of the two major continental powers—France and West Germany believe that giving concessions in advance is in principle the way to deal with the Russians because this response to Soviet pressure removes any real incentive for serious negotiation.

Why should the Russians negotiate seriously on a quid pro quo basis if they can get what they want without it?

And this is but one of many, many examples of the basic cleavage between France and Bonn on the one hand and Washington and London on the other.

It is clear that an alliance is under strain when the two major European powers are opposed to the cold war strategy of the nation on which they must depend for life and death decisions.

What is the alternative to NATO: The best answer appears to be the creation of a European defense community based on the six Common Market countries. The European defense community would be allied to the United States, Britain and possibly the other NATO allies.

It would have its own nuclear deterrent growing in due timeout of France's nuclear efforts. While this would always be considerably less than United States nuclear power, it nonetheless would give Europe a sense of partnership as distinguished from the present situation where in the military sphere the continental powers have been America's most expensive dependent.

America has been urging Europe to stand on its own feet. And after the initial parental shock in discovering that the child not only has grown up but talks back, America may be able to turn the changed relationship to a proud new Europe to greater advantage than the old one.

Billy Sol Estes' Lamb

By Truman Twill

Another thing about Billy Sol Estes that needs to be cleared up is that lamb he parlayed into a $38,000 farm investment. Silly people believed that one too and the boy was not out of his teens.

We are quoting from The Wall Street Journal's account of Billy Sol's younger days:

"In 1943 he was the national winner of the 4-H, the rural youth organization. The prize was a set of silverware given by Franklin D. Roosevelt. The 4-H award climaxed six years of club work during which time, according to the citation, 'he pyramided the profits from a lamb into a $38,000 farm investment.'"

All this started with one lamb the boy prodigy was given for Christmas the year he was 13. He raised a flock of sheep, which he sold for $3,000 two years later when he was 15. He invested the $3,000 in sows and piglets and these, together with wheeling and dealing in grain ran up the $38,000 stake that impressed the 4-H people six years later.

It should have impressed them.

That must have been a prodigious lamb to turn out a flock of 100 sheep in two years. Even if it was female and had a boy friend, the best it could do each year would be triplets. All right, make it quadruplets and grant that all were females. Lambs do not have lambs; they must grow up and become sheep first. There is no way one lamb could produce the makings of a flock of 100 sheep in two years or even 20 years.

Then that little joker about selling 100 sheep for $3,000. Even in Texas sheep aren't worth that kind of money.

Billy Sol Estes apparently learned early in the game that people like a success story so well they will believe anything. They made a wheeler and dealer out of a kid who otherwise could have grown up to be a genteel failure.

In that case neither the 4-H people nor the Junior Chamber of Commerce people would have given him a second glance. But thanks to success stories he made the grade with both organizations.

He could have been nipped in the bud by a look at the books on those fool sheep. Someone should have nabbed Young Billy Sol by the ear and said, "Now look, son, you aren't going to get away with it. Tell us where you got the money."

I have strong feelings about this. When our family moved to the country each son was given three sheep. The idea was to develop a fortune, meanwhile teaching them about thrift, hard work and management.

The fortune never materialized. As for the good lessons about thrift, hard work and management, the kids might as well have spent their formative years in pool halls.

I learned about thrift, hard work and management. And to this day, the sheep at the Twillery do not pay their own way, not even if the shepherd gives his time and effort gratis.

$714,793 Set For Midland School Funds

The Midland Board of Education adopted a tentative budget of $714,793 Monday evening for the 1962-1963 year, which is $65,207 lower than this year's, but increased tax rate on property by 4 mills from 29 to 33.

Loss of $1 million in assessed property due to the removal of machinery tax and loss of $141,000 in tuition were cited as the reasons requiring the millage increase.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell said that the Crucible Steel Co. plant has dropped in value $1,200 due to loss of the machinery tax on assessed property. He said there was a drop of $1 million in assessed valuation this year and another $1 million is expected next year.

He said the borough is in the fourth year of a program offered by Crucible by which the tax is taken off graudally over a five-year period instead of at one time.

He said also the district will lose $141,000 in tuition when 325 junior and senior high students of the Western Beaver County District begin attending that district's new high school in the fall. Midland Lincoln Junior and Senior High will still have a little over 500 students.

He said the millage should have been increased more, that some things he believes still important were left out. He said the budget was prepared at the bare minimum. Some expenses or fixed charges are necessary regardless of the number of students. The lower the number of pupils, the higher the per pupil cost and the district could serve 300 more students with little more cost.

The budget this year, 1961-1962, is $780,000 and its 29-mill tax rate is an increase of 4 mills over the previous year.

The 1961-1962 budget is $86,854 less than the 1960-1961 budget of $866,854 which had an increase of 2 mills to 25. The 1959-1960 budget was $769,538 and the millage 23.

In other business, the board hired John Wilson, junior high instructor and coach, as elementary principal succeeding Miss Margaret Hogan, who is retiring this year.

Charles Mershimer, a high school science teacher who in March was furloughed for the coming year due to the loss of Western Beaver students, was retained to the resignation of George Mastrovich.

The board accepted Mastrovich's resignation and that of Mrs. Ella Mae Dapollonia, sixth grade teacher at 4th St. School.

Wilson, Henry Kuzma, Paul Farnan, John Hermick and Suzanne McGovern were hired for the playground program June 11-Aug. 10. Dominic DiVecchio, band director, was hired for the six-week summer band program.

Mrs. Eldamae Castelli was re-elected treasurer, Dr. Robert Higginbotham, school doctor, and Dr. Zanvel Sigal, dental examiner. The board approved the Christmas holiday tournament sponsored by the Midland Leopard Booster Club.

The board hired a speech therapist on a part-time basis through the county Beaver County school office for the 1962-1963 year. A policy was adopted that no students will be excused from school for tag days.

The board approved 138 seniors for graduation if requirements are completed. The Rev. George H. Bohlender, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, was approved as baccalaureate speaker.

Janitoral supplies were purchased for next year, totaling $3,982.30. Bids were opened for general, art and industrial art supplies and referred to committee study for recommendation.

The school calendar for next year was adopted and calls for 185 days for students and 190 for teachers.

The board will advertise for bids for the painting of the high school auditorium and both fences and light poles at the athletic field.

Permission was granted for the band to participate in Memorial and Veteran Day programs. Permission was given for the use of school facilities during the July 4th celebration.

James Morrison, president, presided.

The Pentagon announced in Washington that 1,200 other Army troops would be sent to Thailand from the Pacific area. With 1,000 Army combat men already here after recent SEATO maneuvers, they will bring the total American force bolstering Thailand's defenses to about 5,000 men.

The initial U.S. air reinforcement reportedly will total about 45 jets in all. Although they can fire nuclear weapons, Washington sources indicated this is unlikely in the present situation.

American officials said there were no plans so far to send U.S. troops into Red-infested Laos. But the Kennedy administration clearly hoped the military buildup here would dissuade the pro-Communist Pathet Lao from overrunning the rest of the kingdom.

There was hope in Washington that the Soviet Union would bring pressure on the Pathet Lao chieftain, Prince Souphanouvong, to abandon his military drive and return to negotiations for a political settlement setting up a neutral coalition government for Laos.

The United States and the Soviet Union announced agreement in Washington for the need of an effective cease-fire and a peaceful political settlement in Laos. The announcement, following a meeting of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, did not specify whehter Laotian pro-Red forces would return to the old cease-fire line in effect before the recent Communist sweep.

Even before announcement of the U.S. landings requested by Thai Premier Sarit Thanarat, there were signs the Pathet Lao in northwest Laos was beginning to pull back from Thailand's border.

The Royal Laotian government said in a communique from Vientiane that six pro-Red battalions had withdrawn from the border area around Houei Sai toward the Red Chinese frontier.

Some expenses or fixed charges are necessary regardless of the number of students. The lower the number of pupils, the higher the per pupil cost and the district could serve 300 more students with little more cost.

The budget this year, 1961-1962, is $780,000 and its 29-mill tax rate is an increase of 4 mills over the previous year.

The 1961-1962 budget is $86,854 less than the 1960-1961 budget of $866,854 which had an increase of 2 mills to 25. The 1959-1960 budget was $769,538 and the millage 23.

In other business, the board hired John Wilson, junior high instructor and coach, as elementary principal succeeding Miss Margaret Hogan, who is retiring this year.

Charles Mershimer, a high school science teacher who in March was furloughed for the coming year due to the loss of Western Beaver students, was retained to the resignation of George Mastrovich.

The board accepted Mastrovich's resignation and that of Mrs. Ella Mae Dapollonia, sixth grade teacher at 4th St. School.

Wilson, Henry Kuzma, Paul Farnan, John Hermick and Suzanne McGovern were hired for the playground program June 11-Aug. 10. Dominic DiVecchio, band director, was hired for the six-week summer band program.

Mrs. Eldamae Castelli was re-elected treasurer, Dr. Robert Higginbotham, school doctor, and Dr. Zanvel Sigal, dental examiner. The board approved the Christmas holiday tournament sponsored by the Midland Leopard Booster Club.

The board hired a speech therapist on a part-time basis through the county Beaver County school office for the 1962-1963 year. A policy was adopted that no students will be excused from school for tag days.

The board approved 138 seniors for graduation if requirements are completed. The Rev. George H. Bohlender, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, was approved as baccalaureate speaker.

Janitoral supplies were purchased for next year, totaling $3,982.30. Bids were opened for general, art and industrial art supplies and referred to committee study for recommendation.

The school calendar for next year was adopted and calls for 185 days for students and 190 for teachers.

The board will advertise for bids for the painting of the high school auditorium and both fences and light poles at the athletic field.

Permission was granted for the band to participate in Memorial and Veteran Day programs. Permission was given for the use of school facilities during the July 4th celebration.

James Morrison, president, presided.

Laos

The Pentagon announced in Washington that 1,200 other Army troops would be sent to Thailand from the Pacific area. With 1,000 Army combat men already here after recent SEATO maneuvers, they will bring the total American force bolstering Thailand's defenses to about 5,000 men.

The initial U.S. air reinforcement reportedly will total about 45 jets in all. Although they can fire nuclear weapons, Washington sources indicated this is unlikely in the present situation.

American officials said there were no plans so far to send U.S. troops into Red-infested Laos. But the Kennedy administration clearly hoped the military buildup here would dissuade the pro-Communist Pathet Lao from overrunning the rest of the kingdom.

There was hope in Washington that the Soviet Union would bring pressure on the Pathet Lao chieftain, Prince Souphanouvong, to abandon his military drive and return to negotiations for a political settlement setting up a neutral coalition government for Laos.

The United States and the Soviet Union announced agreement in Washington for the need of an effective cease-fire and a peaceful political settlement in Laos. The announcement, following a meeting of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, did not specify whehter Laotian pro-Red forces would return to the old cease-fire line in effect before the recent Communist sweep.

Even before announcement of the U.S. landings requested by Thai Premier Sarit Thanarat, there were signs the Pathet Lao in northwest Laos was beginning to pull back from Thailand's border.

The Royal Laotian government said in a communique from Vientiane that six pro-Red battalions had withdrawn from the border area around Houei Sai toward the Red Chinese frontier.

Hike North Ends At Chester For 2 Knoxville Youths

Two Knoxville (Tenn.) boys, 14 and 15, who had traveled 680 miles since leaving home Monday afternoon when they were expelled from school, were picked up by Chester police at 1:15 a. m. today and taken to New Cumberland where their parents were notified.

Patrolman Clarence Lennens said he spotted the pair on Carolina Ave. at 2nd St. and questioned them, since they were out after the city curfew.

The boys said they were on their way to Pittsburgh where one of them formerly resided. They said they had been expelled from school Monday, and didn't want to face their parents, so they started hitch-hiking.

Lennens said they indicated this was not the first time they had "run away."

If you find mold has formed on a hard cheese that's been refrigerated, just trim away the mold and use the cheese. Such molds are not harmful.

Eggs should be kept covered in the refrigerator; so if you haven't a special covered container for such use, make do with the covered carton in which eggs are usually packed.

eral and state fraud charges. His relationships with Congress members and government officials are under scrutiny by two congressional investigating groups and four grand juries. He has declared himself bankrupt.

Ralph, 36, a former Tennessee farm boy, is the second Agriculture Department official to be fired in the Estes case. A third resigned.

The highest ranking official to be hit by the fast-moving, politically charged storm was Assistant Secretary of Labor Jerry R. Holleman, who resigned last Friday after disclosing he had accepted a gift of $1,000 from fellow Texan and Democrat Estes.

Ralph has been under investigation by the FBI since his name first cropped up in testimony in Texas about Estes' gifts of clothing to government officials.

Ralph denied before the Texas Court of Inquiry that he received any clothing from Estes. He also denied that Estes received any favors from the Agriculture Department.

Three salesmen of Dallas' Nieman-Marcus men's shop testified Ralph had been fitted with two expensive suits and two pairs of shoes. The suits, without the customary labels on the inside pocket, were sent to Estes at a Washington hotel later, they said, and the shoes were delivered to Estes at the Dallas hotel where both Estes and Ralph were staying.

In other developments Tuesday in the Estes case:

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., urged President Kennedy to fire Freeman on the basis of what is known of the case already.

The President, without mentioning the Estes case or Tower's telegram, gave Freeman an indirect vote of confidence. He assigned Freeman to substitute for him as a speaker before the World Food Forum. Kennedy sent the organization a message that "I could have found no one of stronger conviction or greater dedication to the national interest to take my place tonight than Secretary Freeman."

Miss Mary K. Jones, 51, a secretary in the Agriculture Department, told the Washington Evening Star she did not know why she was whisked from her office to a psychiatric ward.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., had charged in a Senate speech that she was "railroaded for refusing to cooperate in covering up corruption in the agency" and held 12 days before being pronounced mentally sound. Freeman called Williams' charges preposterous.

Man Hurt While Unloading Truck

A Wellsville man injured while helping unload a truck was treated at the Osteopathic Hospital Tuesday, along with two youngsters hurt in separate mishaps.

Dale E. Miller, 40, of 821 Wood St. suffered a laceration of the chin when a pinch bar slipped while he was unloading cement.

Roy James Ward, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ward of New Cumberland R. D. 2, was treated for a laceration of the left foot received when he stepped on a broken bottle.

Bruce Edgell, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edgell of Calcutta, suffered a face injury when struck by a baseball bat at school.

Michael Glonek, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Glonek, 822 Avondale St., was treated Monday for a cut of the elbow received while playing.

ART EXHIBIT OPENS. Various works by East Liverpool High School art students have been placed on display at Carnegie Library. The exhibit, under the direction of Mrs. Sondra Marshall, art instructor, opened Tuesday and will conclude May 29. There are 60 pieces of work including ceramic sculpture, mosaics and various type paintings. The main contributors were Carol Wilson, Jacquie Palmer, Jean Sauerbrei and Barrie W. Smith. Upper left is the painting, "Spring Flowers," by Miss Sauerbrei; at right, "Madonna," by Barrie Smith, and a mosaic table of vinyl tile by Sybil Hamilton.

Dear friends,

Walter Lippman says: "Where all think alike, no one thinks very much."

If everybody thought alike on the matter of funeral services, all funeral programs would be the same. Most people, however, have their own opinions and preference.

Each service we plan is arranged to the family's own desires. The details are decided by the family. We simply see that those details are properly carried out.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Martin

Collision Of Auto, Motorcycle Kills 2

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—A motorcycle-car collision at the crest of a small hill late Tuesday took the lives of two cyclists.

Seneca County sheriff's deputies said the motorcycle rammed into the side of a car that was pulling off U.S. 224 into a driveway just north of Bloomville. Both were going in opposite directions.

Killed were Charles G. Welty, 24, of Bloomville and Paul Woerling Jr., 22, of New Washington (Crawford County). Welty was driving the motorcycle.

Raymond R. Ulman, 46, of Rt. 1, Bloomville, driver of the car, was unhurt. Deputies quoted Ulman as saying he did not see the motorcycle because of the slight hill in front of his house.

Chlorinator Bids Will Be Received

Legislation authorizing Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare to advertise for bids for a new chlorinator for the water filtration plant was adopted by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The present chlorinator will be retained and repaired for emergency use and for a pre-chlorinating process at the plant. The legislation authorities the Board of Control, comprised of Mayor William Daugherty and Baldasare, to let the contract.

IN OTHER business, Council referred back to the street and light committee legislation which would have placed a two - hour parking limit on Anderson Ave. between 12th and 13th Sts.

Councilman Frank DaLonzo said residents had asked for the restriction previously to halt all-day parking by potters. Now they are undecided as to what to do as several park on the street as they have no garages, he commented.

Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, asked the finance committee to determine if funds are available to have mercury-type lights installed on Main St. between 3rd and 9th Sts.

He said the extra cost for the 24 lights in the area would be approximately $61.20 per month. He said for 30 lights from 9th St. to the lower end of town it would cost approximately $115 extra each month.

HE SAID the cost was higher than anticipated but suggested the new lights be installed between 3rd and 9th.

Bertram Wakefield of the Ohio Power Co. said he would have to check with the utility's engineers to determine if the program would be feasible. In answer to a question from Councilman Robert Taggart, Wakefield said steel poles cost more than wooden on the monthly rental.

Stroble said it costs $5 per month for each light now on Main between 3rd and 9th. He also said he had received a request for a brighter street light next to the Riverside United Presbyterian Church. This also was referred to the finance committee.

The mayor's report for April showed $1,020 collected in fines and fees. Auditor Edgar S. Davidson's report showed a balance of $108,196.69 with the general fund $5,391.58 overdrawn.

MRS. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, read a letter from a special counsel to President Kennedy stating that collection of wage tax from a non-resident is legal at present but that legislation has been introduced to Congress to halt the practice.

Council directed letters be sent a month ago to several state and federal officials opposing collection of a tax by Midland.

A letter was read from the Sherwood Equipment Co. of Columbus describing various types of truck scales. Council is investigating the possibility of obtaining scales to check for overweight tractor - trailer units passing through.

DaLonzo wrote to the Pennsylvania Railroad, asking if it is possible the railroad might help the city purchase the scales as the firm is interested in truck transportation as a competitor.

Taggart, chairman, said the water committee will meet next Wednesday at 9 a. m. with the mayor and safety - service director to offer suggestions on the collection of unpaid bills.

STROBLE complained that old trucks owned by Parker VanDyke on his property on 17th St. are unsightly and contrary to a city ordinance on junk yards.

Mrs. Baldwin said the complaint against the old vehicles has been on the Council records since 1950. Previous Councils have been unable to make him remove the vehicles.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said they cannot be termed a fire hazard. Solicitor William Bush said the problem is covered by the ordinance on junk yards. It can be invoked, he said.

Bush said someone has to file a complaint. Police Chief John Hephner said he has been "beat on the ordinance twice as you have to prove a sale of merchandise before something can be termed junk."

FOLLOWING a lengthy discussion, the problem was referred to city enforcement officials.

Stroble complimented Baldasare on the repairs made on Route 45. He said holes in streets cannot be patched because the hot mix is not available from the Tri-State Asphalt Co.

Stroble commented the firm should be more considerate of its customers. Baldasare said he sent trucks to the plants twice and found it closed or not operating.

He said he received six tons of materials for some work Tuesday.

The mayor commented "In the name of good common sense does anyone on Council think that the director or myself would delay patching holes when we have the money?" He said this seems to have been insinuated in the past.

Baldasare was asked to check large holes near the floodwall gate on Lisbon St. They cannot be filled with blacktop as they are for the operating mechanism of the gate but Stroble suggested they be covered with steel plates.

COUNCILMAN Donald Miller was absent. The Rev. Joseph Varner gave the opening prayer.

Following the meeting, Chief Hephner showed the councilmen equipment used by the police force. It is being displayed at the police headquarters in keeping with National Police Week.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am married to a man who is all son and no husband. Although he'll never see 30 again he still behaves like a child where his parents are concerned. He phones his mother every morning before breakfast to say "hello."

He discusses everything that goes on in our home and takes their advice. The reason I'm writing is because of what happened last night.

My mother-in-law telephoned me and said, "I hope you'll like living in California, dear." I told her I didn't know what she was talking about. Her reply was, "Oh, didn't you know Bud accepted the promotion and you'll be moving out West as soon as he can sell the house?"

It burned me up to hear this news from my mother-in-law. What can I do about it?—OUTSIDE LOOKING IN.

-:-

Dear Outside: At this point you can rejoice. The news that you are moving out of town, even if it did come from your mother-in-law, is all good. It could mean the little boy will have to grow up. Let's hope so.

Old Flame Rekindled

Dear Ann: I read the letter from the woman who years later couldn't get her college sweetheart out of her mind. You told her she was living with a dream and that if she saw the guy today she probably wouldn't give him a second look.

Well, in 99 cases out of 100 you'd be right and I know you must aim your advice at those 99 — but listen to what happened to me:

I had day dreams (and night dreams, too) about my college sweetheart. After 17 years I was still unable to rid myself of those romantic memories, although I was happily married and the mother of six lovely children.

Last month I ran into my college love at a funeral. He was more handsome than ever — still slim and straight. His wealth of jet black hair was streaked with gray. He had smile lines around his beautiful eyes. I confess I found him just as exciting as he was 17 years ago.

Now I wish I hadn't seen him because my heartache is even more acute. My advice is to leave well enough alone, girls. Don't go looking for trouble. It's bad enough when trouble finds you. — I KNOW.

Teen-Age Goldfish

Dear Ann: Is a 15-year-old girl entitled to some privacy?

When I get a telephone call either my mother or one of my sisters hangs around and takes in every word. When I write a letter someone is always reading over my shoulder. When I receive a letter it is opened by anyone who happens to get hold of it.

I can't tell my sisters anything in confidence because it goes straight to my mother. And she tells everything to my father.

When I complain, my mother says a teen-ager should have nothing to hide. Everything should be open and aboveboard — letters, phone conversations and secrets.

Is she right? I've been in the homes of friends and they don't have these problems. Please print your opinion. — FISHBOWL LIFE.

Dear Fishbowl: A child who is old enough to read should be permitted to open her own mail. And she should not have a committee at her elbow when she writes a letter.

Telephone calls should be private, and a confidence should be a sacred trust.

Resolve to do better by your children than is being done by you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Elders Picked For 6 Years

Richard Jones and Carl A. Werner have been elected as elders of the First Church of Christ for a period of six years, it was announced at the Sunday worship.

Other church leaders and officers whose election was announced were Charles Hohmann, Dwight Hickman, Noah Hilditch, Clifton Jones, Ray Clendenning, Walter Bennett, Frank Siddel, Charles Hendershot, Blaine Smith, Orville Schoolcraft, Clayton Shelton, Thomas Wood, Don Shaneyfelt, Jack Pryor and Richard Johnson, deacons for three-year terms.

George Farrell, Elmer Matheny and Alton Webber were named trustees and Andy Smith was elected deacon emeritus.

Administrative officers chosen for one-year terms include Earl Roush, Sunday School superintendent; Glenn W. Hall, treasurer, and Mrs. Ila Pietsch, financial secretary.

They will be installed July 1, the start of the new church year, by the pastor, John N. Mostoller.

The annual election followed a congregational dinner last week with 100 attending.

Frank K. Dunn, assistant to the president of Bethany College and a longtime church leader, particularly in the Mississippi and Florida areas, was guest speaker.

Company coming for lunch or Sunday night supper? Serve chicken or shrimp salad garnished with deviled egg halves.

FBI To Seek Clues In Test On Car Bomb

Component parts of a dynamite bomb found in a Weirton man's car here Sunday morning will be sent to the laboratory of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington for examination in hopes of opening up a new avenue of clues, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

Chief Radeschi said he will ask the FBI experts to check the dynamite itself, along with bits of string and friction tape with which the 13 sticks were bound together and fastened to the steering column of the auto of Henry Barber.

A service station attendant found the bomb while checking the oil level in the crankcase of Barber's auto. Although the bomb was wired to the auto generator, a flaw had caused it to misfire.

FBI agents from the district offices in Youngstown and Wheeling were called into the case Monday, working with East Liverpool police and Hancock County authorities. Barber told police he had driven his Cadillac here from the Cactus Bar, near Chester, shortly before the lethal device was found.

The FBI lab's examination may turn up a number of clues, including the origin of the dynamite and the companies that handled it and the composition of the string and the tape, which possible leads on the manufacturers and distributors.

There may be other clues on the component parts invisible to the naked eye but readily discernible in chemical tests or checks under ultra-violet light, the chief pointed out.

Two deputies assigned by Hancock Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny are continuing the investigation with FBI agents.

Beaver

Bessor, Zelienople businessman. Their vote:

Robinson	11,361
Heath	5,154
Bessor	4,954

Clark received the majority of his support in Beaver, polling 15,458 votes and Robinson's county vote was 7,769, indicative of the Democrat-heavy registration, observers said.

The county races that attracted the most interest in the light turnout were those for assemblymen with 14 candidates for nominations for the two districts.

In the Democratic contest for the 1st District, Robert Hamilton, Ambridge incumbent, won nomination for his 11th term over Victor G. Sturm of Baden, Joseph Plevel of East Rochester and George Larrick of Ambridge. Their vote:

Hamilton	4,156
Plevel	933
Larrick	1,030
Sturm	1,027

In the 2nd District, Charles D. Stone and H. Beryl Klein, incumbents, of Hopewell and Aliquippa, respectively, were victors over Daniel Carling of Hookstown, John Cartwright of Beaver Falls and Clarence Neish of Aliquippa. Their vote:

Stone	7,753
Klein	7,121
Neish	4,558
Cartwright	4,195
Carling	1,213

Cunningham	2,106
Lloyd	1,885

In the 2nd District, Sam Holland, Beaver attorney, and Jack Doolittle, Beaver Falls businessman, won a three-way race, with Michael Jackson of Aliquippa trailing. Their vote:

Holland	6,649
Doolittle	4,902
Jackson	3,924

In the Democratic party bid for state committeeman, James Albert of Hopewell was unopposed, while the Republicans elected Paul Merriman over Frank J. Keller of Rochester by a majority of over 125 votes.

Wife Injured As Car Plunges Backwards

A Wellsville woman escaped serious injury but was hospitalized as the result of a freak accident Tuesday afternoon at 2 when a car driven by her husband plunged backwards over a 25-foot embankment on Route 213 about two-tenths of a mile from the intersection of Route 7 at Yellow Creek.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said William Fogo, 37, of 1795 Clark Ave. was attempting to turn around on the highway when he backed over the hill.

The car rolled down the embankment and came to a halt on its top on the railroad tracks. The car was demolished. Witnesses said the roof was smashed down almost even with the hood. Fogo escaped injury but Mrs. Ruth Fogo, 38, suffered head and right leg injuries. She is listed in "satisfactory" condition at the Osteopathic Hospital. Both had crawled from the car when help arrived.

Primaries

Scranton, 44, entered the Pennsylvania race after Eisenhower—a fellow Pennsylvanian—let it be known he would campaign only for "young and vigorous" tickets. He had the party leadership's backing but State Grange Master J. Collins McSparran, charging that Scranton was a "carbon copy Democrat," waged a vigorous campaign. Scranton rolled up a 4-1 margin.

His opponent in November will be Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, who crushed two politically unknown candidates in the Democratic primary. Dilworth tried once before, in 1950, and lost by 86,000 votes.

Mishap Hurts Woman In Salineville District

A 32-year-old Salineville woman is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when her car hit an embankment on Maple Hill south of Salineville Tuesday night and she was thrown out.

Mrs. Juanita Lemasters of Salineville R. D. 1 received injuries of the neck and left shoulder and multiple abrasions in the mishap which occurred after the brakes failed about two miles from Salineville.

She was admitted at 11:45 p.m. after she was brought to the hospital by a brother. The Ohio Highway Patrol had no report of the mishap.

Wife Injured As Car Plunges Backwards

A Wellsville woman escaped serious injury but was hospitalized as the result of a freak accident Tuesday afternoon at 2 when a car driven by her husband plunged backwards over a 25-foot embankment on Route 213 about two-tenths of a mile from the intersection of Route 7 at Yellow Creek.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said William Fogo, 37, of 1795 Clark Ave. was attempting to turn around on the highway when he backed over the hill.

The car rolled down the embankment and came to a halt on its top on the railroad tracks. The car was demolished. Witnesses said the roof was smashed down almost even with the hood. Fogo escaped injury but Mrs. Ruth Fogo, 38, suffered head and right leg injuries. She is listed in "satisfactory" condition at the Osteopathic Hospital. Both had crawled from the car when help arrived.

Scranton, 44, entered the Pennsylvania race after Eisenhower—a fellow Pennsylvanian—let it be known he would campaign only for "young and vigorous" tickets. He had the party leadership's backing but State Grange Master J. Collins McSparran, charging that Scranton was a "carbon copy Democrat," waged a vigorous campaign. Scranton rolled up a 4-1 margin.

His opponent in November will be Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, who crushed two politically unknown candidates in the Democratic primary. Dilworth tried once before, in 1950, and lost by 86,000 votes.

Mishap Hurts Woman In Salineville District

A 32-year-old Salineville woman is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when her car hit an embankment on Maple Hill south of Salineville Tuesday night and she was thrown out.

Mrs. Juanita Lemasters of Salineville R. D. 1 received injuries of the neck and left shoulder and multiple abrasions in the mishap which occurred after the brakes failed about two miles from Salineville.

She was admitted at 11:45 p.m. after she was brought to the hospital by a brother. The Ohio Highway Patrol had no report of the mishap.

Rotary Hears Hargraves

Principal Explains New Course On Communism

The absence of God in the Communist system of government is being emphasized in a new course on "Evils of Communism" started at East Liverpool High School, Principal George Hargraves told fellow - members of the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Declaring that Communism thrives on ignorance, Hargraves termed as "glaringly inadequate" the number of instruction courses under way in the country on knowledge and understanding of Communist dogma.

"Knowledge and understanding of Communism, with unbiased instruction, is imperative," Hargraves asserted in pointing out that Communists control half of the world's civilized population, one-third of the world's entire population, and one-third of the land mass.

The basic difference between Communism and Democracy is simply a three-letter word — God —despite all the confusing and disturbing questions on the Red menace, Hargraves told the club at its luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

"It's as simple as that," he added. "Communism consists of militant atheism, proving there is no God and if you don't believe it, they get rid of you. Militant atheism is the core of the system," he said.

Hargraves gave highlights of an address of Herbert A. Philbrick, who spoke on "Techniques of Combating Communism" at a spring workshop of East Central Ohio teachers Saturday near Zanesville.

Philbrick, who joined the Communist party as an FBI counterspy, was asked why he didn't fall to Communism while the party was winning over so many others all around him.

"Because I believe in God — that was the difference," Philbrick told the teachers, Hargraves said.

"Philbrick also termed as hogwash reports of different kinds of Communists," Hargraves continued. "He said there is only one kind, despite claims of 'pinks,' and explained that party members are difficult to detect."

There are 230 pupils enrolled in the new, two - weeks course and the text is a small, paperback publication, "This Is Communism," Hargraves said. The instructors are Helen Capehart, Isabele Clouse and Harold Baldwin.

Hargraves said that interest shown by the seniors enrolled in the classes, part of courses in American government and economics, has been encouraging.

Movies of "Operation Abolition" and "Accent on Youth" were screened at a kickoff assembly which launched the classes.

A second meeting was held Monday, when Hargraves discussed specific points of Philbrick's talk, citing statistics of Communist activities. The counterspy had said there are 10,000 Communists in this country, representing the largest spy apparatus ever.

Mexico Pickets Keep Cool Beneath Trees

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico (AP) — Telephone employes here went on strike and set up picket lines around the company building.

New Ohio Church Conference Plan Offered Leaders

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A proposal to organize the new United Church of Christ in Ohio into a statewide conference, with five smaller area associations, was outlined Tuesday night to leaders of the two churches involved.

The proposed organization would replace the present Ohio Conference of the Congregational Christian Churches and four area synods of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The two denominations were merged nationally when the United Church of Christ constitution was declared effective last year.

The proposed state organization would have a president, to be elected for an indefinite term, plus moderator, vice moderator, secretary and treasurer. Either moderator or vice moderator would be a layman, with the others probably clergymen. Each officer would serve one year.

Also brought out at the meeting were procedures by which an area association would ordain and recognize and call a minister to a pulpit.

The Rev. Hebrert Van Meter of Kent said the proposals will be studied for possible revision and the separate church bodies will vote on them next spring.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church now has 344 churches in Ohio, the Congregational churches, 323.

At an earlier session, the Rev. Erston M. Butterfield of Berea was elected minister and superintendent of the Ohio Conference of Congregational Christian Churches.

Grade Teacher Reinstated In Paddling Issue

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — The Hillsdale Board of Education voted Tuesday night to reinstate a 7th grade English teacher who had been suspended for allegedly paddling a 15-year-old Hayesville student.

The board had suspended Theodore Potts, 28, Monday night pending an investigation of the paddling of Lester Bassler last Friday. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bassler, told the board their son was paddled so hard that he had to have medical care.

A delegation of 32 parents attended an open hearing on the paddling incident presided over by Ashland County Prosecutor James Gossett. Potts and the Basslers were represented by counsel.

Following the hearing, the school board held a three - hour closed meeting at which the reinstatement decision was reached. It recommended careful regulation of physical discipline by teachers in the future.

No formal charge has been filed against Potts, who testified at the hearing that he paddled the boy because he "had lied to me and cheated me."

Potts did not elaborate on the accusation, but said "Lester is the only one in my classes who has refused to do his work."

Rotary Hears Hargraves

Principal Explains New Course On Communism

The absence of God in the Communist system of government is being emphasized in a new course on "Evils of Communism" started at East Liverpool High School, Principal George Hargraves told fellow - members of the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Declaring that Communism thrives on ignorance, Hargraves termed as "glaringly inadequate" the number of instruction courses under way in the country on knowledge and understanding of Communist dogma.

"Knowledge and understanding of Communism, with unbiased instruction, is imperative," Hargraves asserted in pointing out that Communists control half of the world's civilized population, one-third of the world's entire population, and one-third of the land mass.

The basic difference between Communism and Democracy is simply a three-letter word — God —despite all the confusing and disturbing questions on the Red menace, Hargraves told the club at its luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

"It's as simple as that," he added. "Communism consists of militant atheism, proving there is no God and if you don't believe it, they get rid of you. Militant atheism is the core of the system," he said.

Hargraves gave highlights of an address of Herbert A. Philbrick, who spoke on "Techniques of Combating Communism" at a spring workshop of East Central Ohio teachers Saturday near Zanesville.

Philbrick, who joined the Communist party as an FBI counterspy, was asked why he didn't fall to Communism while the party was winning over so many others all around him.

"Because I believe in God — that was the difference," Philbrick told the teachers, Hargraves said.

"Philbrick also termed as hogwash reports of different kinds of Communists," Hargraves continued. "He said there is only one kind, despite claims of 'pinks,' and explained that party members are difficult to detect."

There are 230 pupils enrolled in the new, two - weeks course and the text is a small, paperback publication, "This Is Communism," Hargraves said. The instructors are Helen Capehart, Isabele Clouse and Harold Baldwin.

Hargraves said that interest shown by the seniors enrolled in the classes, part of courses in American government and economics, has been encouraging.

Movies of "Operation Abolition" and "Accent on Youth" were screened at a kickoff assembly which launched the classes.

A second meeting was held Monday, when Hargraves discussed specific points of Philbrick's talk, citing statistics of Communist activities. The counterspy had said there are 10,000 Communists in this country, representing the largest spy apparatus ever.

Mexico Pickets Keep Cool Beneath Trees

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico (AP) — Telephone employes here went on strike and set up picket lines around the company building.

New Ohio Church Conference Plan Offered Leaders

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A proposal to organize the new United Church of Christ in Ohio into a statewide conference, with five smaller area associations, was outlined Tuesday night to leaders of the two churches involved.

The proposed organization would replace the present Ohio Conference of the Congregational Christian Churches and four area synods of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The two denominations were merged nationally when the United Church of Christ constitution was declared effective last year.

The proposed state organization would have a president, to be elected for an indefinite term, plus moderator, vice moderator, secretary and treasurer. Either moderator or vice moderator would be a layman, with the others probably clergymen. Each officer would serve one year.

Also brought out at the meeting were procedures by which an area association would ordain and recognize and call a minister to a pulpit.

The Rev. Hebrert Van Meter of Kent said the proposals will be studied for possible revision and the separate church bodies will vote on them next spring.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church now has 344 churches in Ohio, the Congregational churches, 323.

At an earlier session, the Rev. Erston M. Butterfield of Berea was elected minister and superintendent of the Ohio Conference of Congregational Christian Churches.

To Ship Rice To Cuba

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The government has agreed to ship 6,500 tons of rice to Cuba, Bjorn Koch, director of industry and commerce, announced Tuesday. Cuba will pay for part of the shipment in sugar, Koch said.

Want to give good old lettuce and tomato salad interesting flavor? Serve it with an oil-and-vinegar dressing to which oregano and garlic have been added.

Grade Teacher Reinstated In Paddling Issue

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — The Hillsdale Board of Education voted Tuesday night to reinstate a 7th grade English teacher who had been suspended for allegedly paddling a 15-year-old Hayesville student.

The board had suspended Theodore Potts, 28, Monday night pending an investigation of the paddling of Lester Bassler last Friday. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bassler, told the board their son was paddled so hard that he had to have medical care.

A delegation of 32 parents attended an open hearing on the paddling incident presided over by Ashland County Prosecutor James Gossett. Potts and the Basslers were represented by counsel.

Following the hearing, the school board held a three - hour closed meeting at which the reinstatement decision was reached. It recommended careful regulation of physical discipline by teachers in the future.

No formal charge has been filed against Potts, who testified at the hearing that he paddled the boy because he "had lied to me and cheated me."

Potts did not elaborate on the accusation, but said "Lester is the only one in my classes who has refused to do his work."

Son Of Late Governor Is Sued For Divorce

Asks Political Asylum

County's New School Term Calendar Set

LISBON — The County Board of Education Monday night adopted the school calendar for the 1962-63 term and agreed to recommend it to school boards in the county system for adoption.

Under the calendar, schools would be in session 176 days with classes beginning on Sept. 6 and ending on May 29, 1963.

Other dates on the calendar are: Sept. 4-5, meetings of teachers and executives, respectively; Oct. 26, meeting of East Central Ohio Teachers Association; Nov. 22-24, Thanksgiving; Dec. 24-Jan. 1, Christmas vacation; Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday; April 11, 12 and 15, Easter vacation; May 30, Memorial Day, and May 21, teachers' workshop.

After a lengthy discussion, the board voted, 4-1, against increasing the salary of Supt. James L. McBride. Proponents of the increase said records show McBride's salary is low, compared with the average in the state, and that two executive heads in schools in the county system receive more than the county superintendent.

Mrs. Freeman Strabley voted for the salary boost. Opposed were Atty. Donald Elliott, Olan Sanor, Dan Furey and Allen G. Chamberlin. McBride's salary now is $9,300 plus a $600 travel allowance.

The board approved a plan for all county school systems to teach a six-week course on "The Evils of Communism" as part of next year's curriculum. The class will be only for high school seniors.

"The World of Communism" was adopted as the textbook for the course. Other books adopted for the system after study by teachers were: "Modern Biology," published by Holt-Rinehart & Winston Co., and mathematics books covering algebra, geometry and advanced high school mathematics, all published by Charles E. Merrill Books, Inc.

Sanor reported on the spring conference of the East Central Ohio Teachers Association, which he attended last week.

Supt. McBride reported on the status of certificated personnel in the system. Last year, there were 28 temporarily certified in the elementary grades and 10 in high schools for an average of 17.67 per cent.

Ohio University officials will be at the county school offices May 25 as part of their study of the county office and its relationship to schools under its jurisdiction. The survey is being made at the request of the county board in an effort to improve the system.

Fred Lehman of Salineville, attendance officer, reported he made 75 calls in April — 27 at homes and 48 at schools — and traveled a total of 1,108 miles.

Supt. McBride was asked to send a resolution to the County Medical Society thanking it for making Sabin oral polio vaccine available to school children. Bills totaling $195.23 were ordered paid. Mrs. John Brenner of the United Local District was a visitor at the meeting.

Next session is June 26 at 8:30 p. m.

Dinner Will Conclude Industry Club Season

County's New School Term Calendar Set

LISBON — The County Board of Education Monday night adopted the school calendar for the 1962-63 term and agreed to recommend it to school boards in the county system for adoption.

Under the calendar, schools would be in session 176 days with classes beginning on Sept. 6 and ending on May 29, 1963.

Other dates on the calendar are: Sept. 4-5, meetings of teachers and executives, respectively; Oct. 26, meeting of East Central Ohio Teachers Association; Nov. 22-24, Thanksgiving; Dec. 24-Jan. 1, Christmas vacation; Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday; April 11, 12 and 15, Easter vacation; May 30, Memorial Day, and May 21, teachers' workshop.

After a lengthy discussion, the board voted, 4-1, against increasing the salary of Supt. James L. McBride. Proponents of the increase said records show McBride's salary is low, compared with the average in the state, and that two executive heads in schools in the county system receive more than the county superintendent.

Mrs. Freeman Strabley voted for the salary boost. Opposed were Atty. Donald Elliott, Olan Sanor, Dan Furey and Allen G. Chamberlin. McBride's salary now is $9,300 plus a $600 travel allowance.

The board approved a plan for all county school systems to teach a six-week course on "The Evils of Communism" as part of next year's curriculum. The class will be only for high school seniors.

"The World of Communism" was adopted as the textbook for the course. Other books adopted for the system after study by teachers were: "Modern Biology," published by Holt-Rinehart & Winston Co., and mathematics books covering algebra, geometry and advanced high school mathematics, all published by Charles E. Merrill Books, Inc.

Sanor reported on the spring conference of the East Central Ohio Teachers Association, which he attended last week.

Supt. McBride reported on the status of certificated personnel in the system. Last year, there were 28 temporarily certified in the elementary grades and 10 in high schools for an average of 17.67 per cent.

Ohio University officials will be at the county school offices May 25 as part of their study of the county office and its relationship to schools under its jurisdiction. The survey is being made at the request of the county board in an effort to improve the system.

Fred Lehman of Salineville, attendance officer, reported he made 75 calls in April — 27 at homes and 48 at schools — and traveled a total of 1,108 miles.

Supt. McBride was asked to send a resolution to the County Medical Society thanking it for making Sabin oral polio vaccine available to school children. Bills totaling $195.23 were ordered paid. Mrs. John Brenner of the United Local District was a visitor at the meeting.

Next session is June 26 at 8:30 p. m.

Dinner Will Conclude Industry Club Season

The Industry Women's Club will conclude its season Thursday night with the annual presidents' dinner at the Mansion House Restaurant in New Brighton.

New officers will be installed by Mrs. Paul Murray, new county president, and there will be a reception of new members.

Mrs. O. J. Lee, hospitality chairman, Mrs. William Ralph, hostess chairman and Mrs. Harry Craik are in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Eleanor Wagoner will present the program, including games and prizes.

Rep. Scherer Accused Of 'Political Hogwash'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Gordon Scherer, R - Ohio, isn't even running for re - election to Congress, but State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman has accused him of "political hogwash for purposes of gaining personal publicity."

This was Coleman's reaction Tuesday to reports Scherer is demanding a congressional investigation of an Ohio Highway Department right-of - way purchase through a Columbus junkyard.

Coleman said Scherer, as a member of a House subcommittee on the federal aid highway program, shouldn't be demanding expenditure of funds for a probe whe- the subcommittee has complete records on the deal. KC Spills Tribe, Boston Bombs Yanks As Twins Win

Minnesota Only ½ Game From First

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nobody's pulling away from anybody in the American League chase—not New York's seemingly invincible Yankees or Cleveland's surprising Indians. Not the way Minnesota, Chicago and Baltimore have been moving.

While Cleveland and New York were being set back Tuesday night, Minnesota knocked off Detroit 4-2 with home run help from Vic Power and Harmon Killebrew, the White Sox nipped Washington 4-3 as Al Smith contributed a vital pinch double, and Baltimore swamped Los Angeles 7-1 behind Milt Pappas' strong pitching.

Ninth-place Kansas City slid by Cleveland 6-5 and Boston rocked New York's shaky pitching for a nine-run outburst in the sixth inning and swamped the Yanks 14-4.

As the tightly bunched race stands now, Cleveland has a one-half game edge on the Yanks, the Twins are just 12 percentage points behind New York, the White Sox are only one game off the pace and the Orioles two. For good measure, the Angels, Tigers and Red Sox are tied for sixth, 3½ lengths back, and the ninth-place A's are only five behind.

Power socked a two-run homer as the second man to face Tiger right-hander Frank Lary, sending the Twins off winging toward their eighth win in the last 11 games. Lennie Green's sacrifice fly delivered the clincher in the seventh.

Left-hander Jack Kralick yielded only five hits to Detroit before leaving in the eighth with a blister on his hand.

The White Sox, winners of six of their last eight, pulled it out against the hard-luck Senators in an eighth inning rally keyed by Smith's pinch hit. The double followed singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox, tying the count at 3-3, and Fox came in on Mike Hershberger's ground out.

Rookie John Powell, with a brace of homers and a single in three at bats, and the four-hit pitching of Pappas highlighted the Baltimore runaway.

Powell's first homer climaxed a five-run first inning as Baltimore stashed it away early by bombing out Ted Bowsfield before he could retire a man.

Norm Siebern also belted a pair of two-run homers for Kansas City, who also were helped by two singles and some nifty base running by Dick Howser. With the game even at 4-4, Howser opened the seventh with a single, outlegged the throw to second on a fielder's choice play, moved another notch on a sacrifice and scored on a fly. He moved Marlan Coughtry to third with another single in the eighth, and the run that stood up as the winner crossed when Cleveland's Frank Funk wild-pitched.

Carl Yastrzemski paced Boston's massacre against the reeling Yankees, who again showed pitching troubles in their third straight loss. Yastrzemski whacked a two-run homer off Ralph Terry in the first, had two singles in the Red Sox nine-run pounding of Terry and Jim Coates in the sixth, and later added another single.

Allen Singles Twice, Puts Average At .270

East Liverpool's Bernie Allen continued to raise his batting average in the Twins 4-2 victory over Detroit Tuesday night when he hit two singles in four trips to the plate and scored one run. Allen is now hitting .270 with 27 hits in 100 times at bat.

Lucas Signs 2-Year Contract With Pipers

ABL Team Also Seeks Havlicek

By BARRY DAVIS

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jerry Lucas, three-time All-America from Ohio State who repeatedly said he didn't want to play professional basketball, may have saved pro basketball in Cleveland, and he has given the year-old American Basketball League a shot in the arm.

The 6-8, 225-pound center, who led the Buckeyes to a national championship and two narrow misses, said in a copyrighted story in Sports Illustrated released Tuesday he will sign a two-year contract with the Cleveland Pipers of the ABL.

JERRY LUCAS
Big Mystery Is Over.

The Pipers are expected to announce that Lucas has signed a contract at a 10 a.m. news conference today. Lucas will be present.

Speculation has arisen that John Havlicek, Ohio State captain and Lucas' teammate for four years, also would accept a contract with the Pipers. Havlicek has been drafted by the Pipers and the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, who believe he would make a fine pass catcher, although he hasn't played football since high school.

With Lucas and Havlicek under contract, the ABL probably would be able to negotiate a national television deal similar to that under which National Basketball Association games are shown. Until now, the ABL didn't have any major personality attractions to interest prospective backers of televised games.

Lucas got a more lucrative offer—reportedly $100,000 and an automobile for a three-year contract—from the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA. His contract with the Pipers, according to Lucas, calls for a salary of about $10,000 a season, plus an investment portfolio worth $40,000.

Lucas said Pipers' president George Steinbrenner persuaded him to change his mind about not playing pro ball. Lucas added:

"The Pipers had carefully studied my objections to professional basketball. They came prepared with answers. Mr. Steinbrenner began at once that first day talking about education.

"He said the ABL schedule had been cut to about 70 games—at his suggestion—and would not open until December. Therefore, I could finish school. He offered a two-year contract instead of three. After two years, he said, the club would see that my way was paid through the graduate school of my choice.

He said I wasn't expected to play more than two years. He offered what amounted to a portfolio of stocks and investments that virtually assured me an income for years."

Signing Lucas is a real plum for Steinbrenner, whose Pipers have had a rocky showing at the gate, although they won the league championship last season.

"We're saved,' said Steinbrenner Tuesday night when asked what effect Lucas would have on attendance. "If he can't draw them to the games nobody can."

Lucas is the first highly publicized draftee to pick the ABL, which is competing with the established NBA's prestige and money for players.

Lucas has been bothered throughout his career, beginning in high school, with sore knees—apparently the result of endless hours of practice on asphalt courts when he was a boy. In the semi-finals of the NCAA championships last year, Lucas suffered a sprained left knee and was heavily taped in the championship game. There were some doubts he would be able to play at all. His knee ailments were considered a major factor in his earlier insistence he did not plan to turn pro.

Lucas bounced back to barnstorm with a team of Ohio State seniors and graduates. He tangled with several top pro players—including Jim Kerr of the Syracuse Nationals and Wayne Embry of the Royals—in a tournament at Charlestown, W. Va., and outplayed both of them.

Lucas, an A - minus average student in the School of Commerce at Ohio State, was named Associated Press "player of the year" the last two season.

Potter Golfers Drop 3rd Of Season To Rayen, 6-4

Youngstown teams continued to jinx East Liverpool High's golf team. The Potters had only lost twice to Youngstown Ursuline in 16 matches this spring, but Tuesday dropped a tight 6-4 decision to Rayen at the Stambaugh course.

The loss gives the Potters a 14-3 record to take into Friday's District tournament at Belmont Hills Country Club at St. Clairsville.

Although defeated, Bob Putt was low for the match with a three-over par 39. Dave Thorne came in second with a 42, Bob Gilmore and Bruce Burbick shot 44's and John Rohrer 53. Five places were counted in Tuesday's match.

Low for Rayen was Randy Carselli with a 40.

KC Spills Tribe, Boston Bombs Yanks As Twins Win

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nobody's pulling away from anybody in the American League chase—not New York's seemingly invincible Yankees or Cleveland's surprising Indians. Not the way Minnesota, Chicago and Baltimore have been moving.

While Cleveland and New York were being set back Tuesday night, Minnesota knocked off Detroit 4-2 with home run help from Vic Power and Harmon Killebrew, the White Sox nipped Washington 4-3 as Al Smith contributed a vital pinch double, and Baltimore swamped Los Angeles 7-1 behind Milt Pappas' strong pitching.

Ninth-place Kansas City slid by Cleveland 6-5 and Boston rocked New York's shaky pitching for a nine-run outburst in the sixth inning and swamped the Yanks 14-4.

As the tightly bunched race stands now, Cleveland has a one-half game edge on the Yanks, the Twins are just 12 percentage points behind New York, the White Sox are only one game off the pace and the Orioles two. For good measure, the Angels, Tigers and Red Sox are tied for sixth, 3½ lengths back, and the ninth-place A's are only five behind.

Power socked a two-run homer as the second man to face Tiger right-hander Frank Lary, sending the Twins off winging toward their eighth win in the last 11 games. Lennie Green's sacrifice fly delivered the clincher in the seventh.

Left-hander Jack Kralick yielded only five hits to Detroit before leaving in the eighth with a blister on his hand.

The White Sox, winners of six of their last eight, pulled it out against the hard-luck Senators in an eighth inning rally keyed by Smith's pinch hit. The double followed singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox, tying the count at 3-3, and Fox came in on Mike Hershberger's ground out.

Rookie John Powell, with a brace of homers and a single in three at bats, and the four-hit pitching of Pappas highlighted the Baltimore runaway.

Powell's first homer climaxed a five-run first inning as Baltimore stashed it away early by bombing out Ted Bowsfield before he could retire a man.

Norm Siebern also belted a pair of two-run homers for Kansas City, who also were helped by two singles and some nifty base running by Dick Howser. With the game even at 4-4, Howser opened the seventh with a single, outlegged the throw to second on a fielder's choice play, moved another notch on a sacrifice and scored on a fly. He moved Marlan Coughtry to third with another single in the eighth, and the run that stood up as the winner crossed when Cleveland's Frank Funk wild-pitched.

Carl Yastrzemski paced Boston's massacre against the reeling Yankees, who again showed pitching troubles in their third straight loss. Yastrzemski whacked a two-run homer off Ralph Terry in the first, had two singles in the Red Sox nine-run pounding of Terry and Jim Coates in the sixth, and later added another single.

Allen Singles Twice, Puts Average At .270

East Liverpool's Bernie Allen continued to raise his batting average in the Twins 4-2 victory over Detroit Tuesday night when he hit two singles in four trips to the plate and scored one run. Allen is now hitting .270 with 27 hits in 100 times at bat.

Lucas Signs 2-Year Contract With Pipers

By BARRY DAVIS

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jerry Lucas, three-time All-America from Ohio State who repeatedly said he didn't want to play professional basketball, may have saved pro basketball in Cleveland, and he has given the year-old American Basketball League a shot in the arm.

The 6-8, 225-pound center, who led the Buckeyes to a national championship and two narrow misses, said in a copyrighted story in Sports Illustrated released Tuesday he will sign a two-year contract with the Cleveland Pipers of the ABL.

JERRY LUCAS
Big Mystery Is Over.

The Pipers are expected to announce that Lucas has signed a contract at a 10 a.m. news conference today. Lucas will be present.

Speculation has arisen that John Havlicek, Ohio State captain and Lucas' teammate for four years, also would accept a contract with the Pipers. Havlicek has been drafted by the Pipers and the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, who believe he would make a fine pass catcher, although he hasn't played football since high school.

With Lucas and Havlicek under contract, the ABL probably would be able to negotiate a national television deal similar to that under which National Basketball Association games are shown. Until now, the ABL didn't have any major personality attractions to interest prospective backers of televised games.

Lucas got a more lucrative offer—reportedly $100,000 and an automobile for a three-year contract—from the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA. His contract with the Pipers, according to Lucas, calls for a salary of about $10,000 a season, plus an investment portfolio worth $40,000.

Lucas said Pipers' president George Steinbrenner persuaded him to change his mind about not playing pro ball. Lucas added:

"The Pipers had carefully studied my objections to professional basketball. They came prepared with answers. Mr. Steinbrenner began at once that first day talking about education.

"He said the ABL schedule had been cut to about 70 games—at his suggestion—and would not open until December. Therefore, I could finish school. He offered a two-year contract instead of three. After two years, he said, the club would see that my way was paid through the graduate school of my choice.

He said I wasn't expected to play more than two years. He offered what amounted to a portfolio of stocks and investments that virtually assured me an income for years."

Signing Lucas is a real plum for Steinbrenner, whose Pipers have had a rocky showing at the gate, although they won the league championship last season.

"We're saved,' said Steinbrenner Tuesday night when asked what effect Lucas would have on attendance. "If he can't draw them to the games nobody can."

Lucas is the first highly publicized draftee to pick the ABL, which is competing with the established NBA's prestige and money for players.

Lucas has been bothered throughout his career, beginning in high school, with sore knees—apparently the result of endless hours of practice on asphalt courts when he was a boy. In the semi-finals of the NCAA championships last year, Lucas suffered a sprained left knee and was heavily taped in the championship game. There were some doubts he would be able to play at all. His knee ailments were considered a major factor in his earlier insistence he did not plan to turn pro.

Lucas bounced back to barnstorm with a team of Ohio State seniors and graduates. He tangled with several top pro players—including Jim Kerr of the Syracuse Nationals and Wayne Embry of the Royals—in a tournament at Charlestown, W. Va., and outplayed both of them.

Lucas, an A - minus average student in the School of Commerce at Ohio State, was named Associated Press "player of the year" the last two season.

Potter Golfers Drop 3rd Of Season To Rayen, 6-4

Youngstown teams continued to jinx East Liverpool High's golf team. The Potters had only lost twice to Youngstown Ursuline in 16 matches this spring, but Tuesday dropped a tight 6-4 decision to Rayen at the Stambaugh course.

The loss gives the Potters a 14-3 record to take into Friday's District tournament at Belmont Hills Country Club at St. Clairsville.

Although defeated, Bob Putt was low for the match with a three-over par 39. Dave Thorne came in second with a 42, Bob Gilmore and Bruce Burbick shot 44's and John Rohrer 53. Five places were counted in Tuesday's match.

Low for Rayen was Randy Carselli with a 40.

Giants Top Simmons, 6-3; Pierce Posts 5th Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

That wind tunnel known as Candlestick Park has turned into a Garden of Eden for the San Francisco Giants.

Continuing the amazing run that has catapulted them to the top perch in the National League, the Giants hopped on Curt Simmons and whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3 Tuesday night for their 16th victory in the last 19 games.

It also was the ninth consecutive triumph and the 15th in 17 games at home for the Giants, who apparently have learned to cope with the shifting windy currents in Candlestick Park and made home a paradise.

Billy Pierce posted his fifth win without a loss as San Francisco held its four-game edge over second-place Los Angeles and pushed the third-place Cardinals six back. The Dodgers used a six-run seventh inning outburst to subdue Houston 10-7.

Cincinnati's defending champion Reds won their fifth in a row and the 10th in 12 games by beating Philadelphia 3-2, Pittsburgh broke a six-game losing streak with a 5-4, 10-inning decision over Milwaukee and the New York Mets outlasted the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 13 innings.

Simmons (5-1), who last week became the first pitcher to throw a complete game at the Giants, was bombed for six runs in three innings and that was it as Pierce scattered nine hits until he tired and needed Stu Miller's help in the eighth inning. The decisive runs scored in a three-run third on a double by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda's single and doubles by Felipe Alou and Jim Davenport, the last off reliever Ray Washburn.

Shortstop Maury Wills drove in four runs for the Dodgers, knocking in the go-ahead run in that wild seventh with a single after pinch hitter Doug Camilli had singled across the tying tally. Trailing 7-4 with two out in the inning, the Dodgers erupted for six hits and a half dozen runs that kayoed Colts starter Bob Bruce. Larry Sherry (2-1) picked up the win in relief while Bob Tiefenauer was charged with the loss.

The Reds got away in front on home run No. 12 by Vada Pinson in the first, then put it away with two runs in the second as Leo Cardenas' double and a single by winning pitcher Joey Jay (5-3) each knocked in a run. That made Art Mahaffey (2-5) a loser for the fifth consecutive time.

Dick Groat drove in the tying run for the Pirates with a single in the seventh, then singled and scored the winner in the 10th on a two-out single by Smoky Burgess off Jack Curtis (1-3). Harvey Haddix (2-1) won it. Rookie Denis Menke accounted for all the Braves' runs with a grand slam homer in the fourth after Earl Francis had walked three consecutive batters.

Rookie Cal Koonce walked pinch hitter Hobie Landrith with the bases loaded and two out in the 13th, forcing home Gil Hodges with the winning run for the Mets. George Altman was 4-for-6 with two homers for the Cubs, who replaced the Mets in the cellar.

Griffith Sets School Mark In 440

Stocky Clyde Griffith dashed to a new school record in the 440-yard event to feature East Liverpool High's 73-45 victory over Jefferson Union Tuesday at Patterson Field.

Griffith, a senior, was very close to the mark in a dual meet against United two weeks ago, but with perfect weather yesterday lowered the school mark to 53.2, bettering Bill Flanigan's time of 53.6 set a year ago.

The meet marked the Potters last of the season, leaving them with an overall 4-2 mark.

East Liverpool captured eight of the 14 events and tied for a first in another.

Dave Harriel, the Potters spring man who turned in a fine job at the County meet last Friday, won two first by covering the 100-yard dash in 10.6 and the 220 in 23.5. He also ran the anchor leg on the half-mile relay team.

Bruce McCoy returned to the squad yesterday and captured the mile in 4:51. Jim Richardson tied with Jefferson Union's Parker in the 120-yard high hurdles run in 16.5, and came back to win the 180-yard low hurdles in 21.9.

Jefferson Union won four of the five field events with the Potters Eddie Pruden gaining the only field victory with a leap of 19 feet, 3 inches in the broad jump.

East Liverpool swept two events including the mile run where Gary McKee and Tom Baker finished second and third respectively and the 100-yard dash where Prunden was second and Earl Olmstead third.

Parker, Peach and Henry of Jefferson Union each were double winners.

The results follow:

120-yd. high hurdles—Parker (JU) and Richardson (EL) tied for first, Pillar (EL) 3rd. Time—16.5.

South Side Nine Captures 10-8 Extra Inning Contest

South Side, sparked by John Allison's three-run double in the ninth inning, won its second extra - inning game in as many days with a 10-8 decision at New Brighton Tuesday.

New Brighton had already wrapped up the Section 4 championship before yesterday's game. South Side finished its season with a 4-6 Section record.

Ironman Chuck Schmidt went the distance for the Rams, marking 19 innings the righthander has pitched in two days. He also was the winning pitcher in a 10-inning affair with Midland on Monday.

South Side tied the game at 5-5 in the seventh inning when Mick Dawson drove in Schmidt with a single. The Rams came up with a five-run ninth inning with Allison's two - bagger to left field the big blow.

Giants Top Simmons, 6-3; Pierce Posts 5th Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

That wind tunnel known as Candlestick Park has turned into a Garden of Eden for the San Francisco Giants.

Continuing the amazing run that has catapulted them to the top perch in the National League, the Giants hopped on Curt Simmons and whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3 Tuesday night for their 16th victory in the last 19 games.

It also was the ninth consecutive triumph and the 15th in 17 games at home for the Giants, who apparently have learned to cope with the shifting windy currents in Candlestick Park and made home a paradise.

Billy Pierce posted his fifth win without a loss as San Francisco held its four-game edge over second-place Los Angeles and pushed the third-place Cardinals six back. The Dodgers used a six-run seventh inning outburst to subdue Houston 10-7.

Cincinnati's defending champion Reds won their fifth in a row and the 10th in 12 games by beating Philadelphia 3-2, Pittsburgh broke a six-game losing streak with a 5-4, 10-inning decision over Milwaukee and the New York Mets outlasted the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 13 innings.

Simmons (5-1), who last week became the first pitcher to throw a complete game at the Giants, was bombed for six runs in three innings and that was it as Pierce scattered nine hits until he tired and needed Stu Miller's help in the eighth inning. The decisive runs scored in a three-run third on a double by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda's single and doubles by Felipe Alou and Jim Davenport, the last off reliever Ray Washburn.

Shortstop Maury Wills drove in four runs for the Dodgers, knocking in the go-ahead run in that wild seventh with a single after pinch hitter Doug Camilli had singled across the tying tally. Trailing 7-4 with two out in the inning, the Dodgers erupted for six hits and a half dozen runs that kayoed Colts starter Bob Bruce. Larry Sherry (2-1) picked up the win in relief while Bob Tiefenauer was charged with the loss.

The Reds got away in front on home run No. 12 by Vada Pinson in the first, then put it away with two runs in the second as Leo Cardenas' double and a single by winning pitcher Joey Jay (5-3) each knocked in a run. That made Art Mahaffey (2-5) a loser for the fifth consecutive time.

Dick Groat drove in the tying run for the Pirates with a single in the seventh, then singled and scored the winner in the 10th on a two-out single by Smoky Burgess off Jack Curtis (1-3). Harvey Haddix (2-1) won it. Rookie Denis Menke accounted for all the Braves' runs with a grand slam homer in the fourth after Earl Francis had walked three consecutive batters.

Rookie Cal Koonce walked pinch hitter Hobie Landrith with the bases loaded and two out in the 13th, forcing home Gil Hodges with the winning run for the Mets. George Altman was 4-for-6 with two homers for the Cubs, who replaced the Mets in the cellar.

Griffith Sets School Mark In 440

Stocky Clyde Griffith dashed to a new school record in the 440-yard event to feature East Liverpool High's 73-45 victory over Jefferson Union Tuesday at Patterson Field.

Griffith, a senior, was very close to the mark in a dual meet against United two weeks ago, but with perfect weather yesterday lowered the school mark to 53.2, bettering Bill Flanigan's time of 53.6 set a year ago.

The meet marked the Potters last of the season, leaving them with an overall 4-2 mark.

East Liverpool captured eight of the 14 events and tied for a first in another.

Dave Harriel, the Potters spring man who turned in a fine job at the County meet last Friday, won two first by covering the 100-yard dash in 10.6 and the 220 in 23.5. He also ran the anchor leg on the half-mile relay team.

Bruce McCoy returned to the squad yesterday and captured the mile in 4:51. Jim Richardson tied with Jefferson Union's Parker in the 120-yard high hurdles run in 16.5, and came back to win the 180-yard low hurdles in 21.9.

Jefferson Union won four of the five field events with the Potters Eddie Pruden gaining the only field victory with a leap of 19 feet, 3 inches in the broad jump.

East Liverpool swept two events including the mile run where Gary McKee and Tom Baker finished second and third respectively and the 100-yard dash where Prunden was second and Earl Olmstead third.

South Side Nine Captures 10-8 Extra Inning Contest

South Side, sparked by John Allison's three-run double in the ninth inning, won its second extra - inning game in as many days with a 10-8 decision at New Brighton Tuesday.

New Brighton had already wrapped up the Section 4 championship before yesterday's game. South Side finished its season with a 4-6 Section record.

Ironman Chuck Schmidt went the distance for the Rams, marking 19 innings the righthander has pitched in two days. He also was the winning pitcher in a 10-inning affair with Midland on Monday.

South Side tied the game at 5-5 in the seventh inning when Mick Dawson drove in Schmidt with a single. The Rams came up with a five-run ninth inning with Allison's two - bagger to left field the big blow.

Wellsville Thinclads Win Border Conference Crown

Wellsville High's Tigers swept seven events and tied for first in an eighth to sweep the first track and field championship of the new Buckeye Border Conference Tuesday night at Toronto.

Coach Ken Woods' Orange and Black piled up 71 points in gaining a decisive victory and with it the championship trophy.

Toronto was second in the four-team field with 51 and 2-3 points, while Beaver Local was third with 28 and Springfield last with 9 and 1-3. The league's fifth entry, Jefferson Union, did not compete.

Jim Reed, fleet sophomore star, led Wellsville to the championship with two victories. The Tiger flyer won the 100 yard dash in 10.5, the 220 yard dash in 24.2, and ran the first leg on Wellsville's victorious 880-yard relay team. The quartet also included Andy Dash, Tim Barborak and John Euill, winning in 1:37.

Eric Wilson of Wellsville won the 880 yard run in 2:13, and was second in the mile run. Mark Leyda of Wellsville won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 5 inches, tied for second in the 100 yard dash, and placed third in the 180 low hurdles.

Euill of Wellsville tied for first in the 180 low hurdles in 22.8, and was second in the borad jump with a leap of 20 feet. Andy Dash won the shotput with a heave of 45 feet, 3 and ¾ inches. Larry Giles of the Tigers captured the high jump at five feet, eight inches, and was second in the 440. Frank Luckino was second in the 120 yard high hurdles, while Terry Flesch was second in the high jump.

Wellsville's Leo Pearson was second in the discus event, won by Saxton of Toronto with a distance of 199 feet. Jack Cataldo gained a third in the 440 yard dash.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beaver Local squad gained three firsts, with John Detchon winning the 440 yard dash in 54.5, Don Goforth, the pole vault at 10 feet, 6 inches, and the mile relay in 3:47.

Pete Wilkinson of Beaver Local was fourth in the high and low hurdles, Detchon was third in the century run, Shingleton was third in the discus, and George Gaydos was second in the pole vault for other points.

High School Thinclads Head For District Meets

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Given a break in the weather, Ohio's high school track-field stars figure to set a flock of records in the 55th state championships May 25-26 at Ohio State University's stadium.

Four performances eclipsing state records were chalked up last week in various tune-up relays—and one of the old marks has stood since 1939.

District championships, in which the hotshots will qualify for the state meet, are scheduled this weekend on a score of fronts—and more records are expected.

In last Saturday's Miami Relays, Andy Schramm of Cincinnati Deer Park—the best miler Ohio has ever known—came up with a sizzling 4:18 timing. That's :06.1 better than the state record of 4:24.1 set last year by Toledo Libbey's Mike Gallagher and only seven seconds behind the national high school mark set by Dale Story of California three years ago.

Dale King of Columbus Hilliard soared 13 feet 10¼ inches in the Mid-Eight League pole vault—the first time the state mark of 13-9⅝ set by Mansfield's John Linta in 1939 has been bettered. Steve Kardos of Shaker Heights, out with a pulled leg muscle since March, ripped through the 120-yard high hurdles in 14 seconds flat in the Euclid Relays. The state meet record is :14.4, set by Mansfield's Lou Wadlington in 1951 and tied last year by Bob Fogle of Marietta.

The fourth to better a state record was Al Payne of Dayton Roosevelt's state champions, who racked up a 1:55.7 in the Miami Relays half-mile. The Ohio meet mark is 1:56.9 by Steve Orfanedes of Canton McKinley in 1945.

In his great mile, Schramm went the quarter in 64 seconds, the half in 2:08, the three-quarters in 3:15, and the final quarter in 63 seconds.

AAU Will Not Press Issue On Suspension Of Runners

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union refused today to rise to the bait dangled by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in the first head-on test of the two organizations in their struggle for control of amateur sports.

Sources said the AAU headquarters here would not press for blanket suspension of 11 college track athletes who competed in the Ohio Relays last month. There were indications that the suspension of the runners by the Indiana AAU was only "temporary." One has already been reinstated.

"We are not in the business of trying to make every one ineligible," an AAU spokesman said here. "We are in the business of promoting competition."

The spokesman also said the athletes involved "suspended themselves" by running in the relays, which are not sanctioned by the AAU. He said, however, that "these kids are pawns in a power struggle, and we are not going to let them wreck their careers in a struggle like that."

The NCAA deliberately courted the suspensions, as part of its campaign to organize a track and field federation that would take over control of that sport from the AAU.

Walter Byers, executive director of the college group, said that the Ohio meet was deliberately run without sanction.

Byers, here for a meeting of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said if the AAU suspended the athletes in the relays, it would then have to suspend athletes who compete against them in future meets.

This "process of contamination" could result in practically every athlete in the country being ineligible in short order, with resultant chaos. The hope clearly was to bring the NCAA-AAU issue to a head, with one side or the other assuming future control.

Beavers Win Eighth, 18-9

In a high-scoring affair, Beaver Local pounded Springfield 18-9 Tuesday on the Beavers diamond.

The victory was Beaver Local's eighth in 12 games and also gave lefty Walter Schukert his fourth straight win this season. Schukert came on in relief of Gary Shaw in the fifth inning.

Beaver Local scored seven runs in the first inning after Springfield had jumped off to a 4-0 lead. The visitors took a 9-7 lead in the fifth inning before Beaver Local came back in its half of the fifth for four runs to take an 11-4 lead and then iced the contest with a 7-run sixth inning.

Beaver Local collected 10 hits with catcher Dave Myers powering a pair of triples good for six RBI's.

Ninowski Signs With Cleveland

No salary figures were mentioned, as usual, but the guesses ranged upward from $20,000.

Ninowski was obtained last March 29 from the Detroit Lions in a six-player trade that included Milt Plum, the Browns' No. 1 quarterback.

Although angry and reluctant when the swap was announced, Ninowski smiled broadly at the signing and said:

Wilber Shaffer won first in a "poker road run" of approximately 100 miles sponsored by the Flying Wheels Motorcycle Club of Wellsville Sunday.

AL Batters Rap 14 HRs, 4 Shy Of Record

An additional seven homers were hit on the National League five-game schedule for a grand total of 21.

Wellsville Thinclads Win Border Conference Crown

Wellsville High's Tigers swept seven events and tied for first in an eighth to sweep the first track and field championship of the new Buckeye Border Conference Tuesday night at Toronto.

Coach Ken Woods' Orange and Black piled up 71 points in gaining a decisive victory and with it the championship trophy.

Toronto was second in the four-team field with 51 and 2-3 points, while Beaver Local was third with 28 and Springfield last with 9 and 1-3. The league's fifth entry, Jefferson Union, did not compete.

Jim Reed, fleet sophomore star, led Wellsville to the championship with two victories. The Tiger flyer won the 100 yard dash in 10.5, the 220 yard dash in 24.2, and ran the first leg on Wellsville's victorious 880-yard relay team. The quartet also included Andy Dash, Tim Barborak and John Euill, winning in 1:37.

Eric Wilson of Wellsville won the 880 yard run in 2:13, and was second in the mile run. Mark Leyda of Wellsville won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 5 inches, tied for second in the 100 yard dash, and placed third in the 180 low hurdles.

Euill of Wellsville tied for first in the 180 low hurdles in 22.8, and was second in the borad jump with a leap of 20 feet. Andy Dash won the shotput with a heave of 45 feet, 3 and ¾ inches. Larry Giles of the Tigers captured the high jump at five feet, eight inches, and was second in the 440. Frank Luckino was second in the 120 yard high hurdles, while Terry Flesch was second in the high jump.

Wellsville's Leo Pearson was second in the discus event, won by Saxton of Toronto with a distance of 199 feet. Jack Cataldo gained a third in the 440 yard dash.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beaver Local squad gained three firsts, with John Detchon winning the 440 yard dash in 54.5, Don Goforth, the pole vault at 10 feet, 6 inches, and the mile relay in 3:47.

Pete Wilkinson of Beaver Local was fourth in the high and low hurdles, Detchon was third in the century run, Shingleton was third in the discus, and George Gaydos was second in the pole vault for other points.

High School Thinclads Head For District Meets

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Given a break in the weather, Ohio's high school track-field stars figure to set a flock of records in the 55th state championships May 25-26 at Ohio State University's stadium.

Four performances eclipsing state records were chalked up last week in various tune-up relays—and one of the old marks has stood since 1939.

District championships, in which the hotshots will qualify for the state meet, are scheduled this weekend on a score of fronts—and more records are expected.

In last Saturday's Miami Relays, Andy Schramm of Cincinnati Deer Park—the best miler Ohio has ever known—came up with a sizzling 4:18 timing. That's :06.1 better than the state record of 4:24.1 set last year by Toledo Libbey's Mike Gallagher and only seven seconds behind the national high school mark set by Dale Story of California three years ago.

Dale King of Columbus Hilliard soared 13 feet 10¼ inches in the Mid-Eight League pole vault—the first time the state mark of 13-9⅝ set by Mansfield's John Linta in 1939 has been bettered. Steve Kardos of Shaker Heights, out with a pulled leg muscle since March, ripped through the 120-yard high hurdles in 14 seconds flat in the Euclid Relays. The state meet record is :14.4, set by Mansfield's Lou Wadlington in 1951 and tied last year by Bob Fogle of Marietta.

The fourth to better a state record was Al Payne of Dayton Roosevelt's state champions, who racked up a 1:55.7 in the Miami Relays half-mile. The Ohio meet mark is 1:56.9 by Steve Orfanedes of Canton McKinley in 1945.

In his great mile, Schramm went the quarter in 64 seconds, the half in 2:08, the three-quarters in 3:15, and the final quarter in 63 seconds.

AAU Will Not Press Issue On Suspension Of Runners

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union refused today to rise to the bait dangled by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in the first head-on test of the two organizations in their struggle for control of amateur sports.

Sources said the AAU headquarters here would not press for blanket suspension of 11 college track athletes who competed in the Ohio Relays last month. There were indications that the suspension of the runners by the Indiana AAU was only "temporary." One has already been reinstated.

"We are not in the business of trying to make every one ineligible," an AAU spokesman said here. "We are in the business of promoting competition."

The spokesman also said the athletes involved "suspended themselves" by running in the relays, which are not sanctioned by the AAU. He said, however, that "these kids are pawns in a power struggle, and we are not going to let them wreck their careers in a struggle like that."

The NCAA deliberately courted the suspensions, as part of its campaign to organize a track and field federation that would take over control of that sport from the AAU.

Walter Byers, executive director of the college group, said that the Ohio meet was deliberately run without sanction.

Byers, here for a meeting of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said if the AAU suspended the athletes in the relays, it would then have to suspend athletes who compete against them in future meets.

This "process of contamination" could result in practically every athlete in the country being ineligible in short order, with resultant chaos. The hope clearly was to bring the NCAA-AAU issue to a head, with one side or the other assuming future control.

Beavers Win Eighth, 18-9

In a high-scoring affair, Beaver Local pounded Springfield 18-9 Tuesday on the Beavers diamond.

The victory was Beaver Local's eighth in 12 games and also gave lefty Walter Schukert his fourth straight win this season. Schukert came on in relief of Gary Shaw in the fifth inning.

Beaver Local scored seven runs in the first inning after Springfield had jumped off to a 4-0 lead. The visitors took a 9-7 lead in the fifth inning before Beaver Local came back in its half of the fifth for four runs to take an 11-4 lead and then iced the contest with a 7-run sixth inning.

Beaver Local collected 10 hits with catcher Dave Myers powering a pair of triples good for six RBI's.

Springfield collected eight hits, including home runs by McPherson and Allen.

To Fight In Stockholm

Ninowski Signs With Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Husky Jim Ninowski signed a one-year contract Tuesday to play quarterback for the Cleveland Browns in the 1962 National Football League season.

No salary figures were mentioned, as usual, but the guesses ranged upward from $20,000.

Ninowski was obtained last March 29 from the Detroit Lions in a six-player trade that included Milt Plum, the Browns' No. 1 quarterback.

Although angry and reluctant when the swap was announced, Ninowski smiled broadly at the signing and said:

Shaffer Wins Event Of Flying Wheels Club

Wilber Shaffer won first in a "poker road run" of approximately 100 miles sponsored by the Flying Wheels Motorcycle Club of Wellsville Sunday.

AL Batters Rap 14 HRs, 4 Shy Of Record

Homer happy American League batters put on a display of power Tuesday night as they tagged 14 home runs—four shy of the league record for a five-game program.

An additional seven homers were hit on the National League five-game schedule for a grand total of 21.

Fishermen are active and fish are being caught in all streams and state lakes.

Beaver Creek anglers find rock bass fishing good, along with both small and large-mouth bass, not to mention carp, catfish and suckers. Even the headwaters of the Mahoning River provide rock bass and smallmouth bass. Not many fishermen know about the Mahoning River in Columbiana County.

Gizzard shad are spawning and kicking up quite a commotion along the water's edge in all lakes where they exist.

One enterprising youngster hooked out a stringer full of gizzard shad and along came an individual who offered to buy the fish. They were sold for 50 cents. I pity the person who goes to the trouble to scale and fry these things. They are all scales, water and bones with practically no meat on them.

The pole was being towed around out in one of the bays when her brother finally managed to hook on to it with his pole. After much excitement, Dorothy pulled in a 21-inch carp that had taken the bait.

Bluegills up to 8 inches, along with large stringers of crappies up to 13 inches, are still being taken at Guilford, along with bullheads, channel cats, perch, sunfish and carp.

The crappies are getting a little finicky now and bite best early in the morning about daybreak. Fishermen who go to the trouble of wearing waders can take their fly rods and catch all the bluegills wanted casting around the bank willows. Most any small fly will do the trick, especially when tipped with a maggot or tiny piece of pork rind.

Most any day now if this warm weathers keeps up carp will become active, either spawning or feeding in the shallow bays, and become good targets for the bow and arrow.

The new campsite at Guilford is ready to accommodate either tent or trailer campers and is being used by campers more and more as the season gets along.

Free picnic tables and outdoor grills are being used by the general public, and the big rush will be on about Memorial Day and through the entire summer.

MANY PEOPLE who went to the trouble of planting numerous pine trees on their property only to have a brush fire break out and kill off the needles should not be too discouraged. Pine trees will take a lot of killing before they die.

Take a look at the terminal buds and if they are still green the tree has not been killed. This time next year the trees will be green and growing just the same as if there was no fire. In fact, some forestry departments in Southern states deliberately burn sections of pine plantations to get rid of various pine pests in order to have healthier young trees.

Ted Enders of the Georgetown Rd., near Salem, thought he lost 3,500 trees to a brush fire, but I showed him the trees were not hurt. Now he has to dig up the young trees he planted to replace them and plant them somewhere else as originally planned.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Three former champions return to this resort city for the $20,000 Hot Springs Invitational Open Golf Tournament which begins Thursday.

Doug Sanders, the Georgia boy who plays out of Ojai, Calif., will defend his 1961 championship against 86 professional golf association players and a handful of amateurs.

Julius Boros, who won in 1958, and Bill Collins, the 1960 winner, will attempt to beat Sanders to the first two-time victory in the tournament's seven-year history.

Ben Schwartzwalder has a record of 81 victories, 39 defeats and two ties in his 13 seasons as football coach at Syracuse.

Wellsville Opens League With 8-4 Win

Righthander Jack Call twirled a six-hitter as the Wellsville Merchants dropped Irondale, 8-4, in a Tri-County League opener Tuesday night at Irondale.

Going the distance in his first start, Call struck out 12 and walked only two in winning behind a blazing fast ball.

Featuring Irondale's attack was heavy-hitting veteran Joe Urich, who powered two home runs, a double and a single in four trips to the plate. Grafton and J. Grimm singled for the Irons.

Call also starred at the plate for Wellsville, stroking a single plus a seventh-inning home run. Dick Malone, rightfielder, and third sacker Roger Ours also had two hits each.

Bob Mills was the losing pitcher. Mills started and gave way to Young in the fourth inning. They were tagged for 11 hits.

NEW WILMINGTON — Schedules have been set up for Westminster College's basketball team, which will tour South America this summer with Grambling College under the auspices of the Department of State and the Amateur Athletic Union, Dr. Harold E. Burry, director of athletics, has announced.

Morris, chief of the performing artists' branch, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs.

Because of the demand, the squad will be split at times in order to fulfill as many requests as possible.

Westminster's schedule follows: Bogota, Colombia, June 24-30; Lima, Peru, July 1-5; Antofagasta, Chile, July 6-7; Santiago, Chile, July 8-10; Other cities in Chile, July 11-13; Buenos Aires, Argentina, July 14-17; Montevideo, Uruguay, July 18-22; Rio de Janeiro and other cities, Brazil, July 23-Aug. 4.

Grambling's schedule is similar but the Tigers will be in Managua, Nicaragua, June 24-30, and Asuncion, Paraguay, July 16-21.

Grambling's delegation will come to New Wilmington approximately 10 days before embarkation date to work out with the Titans and make preparations for the clinics the group will be conducting.

Workout sessions on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, June 18-20, at 8 p. m. will be open to the public for a slight admission charge.

The crappies are getting a little finicky now and bite best early in the morning about daybreak. Fishermen who go to the trouble of wearing waders can take their fly rods and catch all the bluegills wanted casting around the bank willows. Most any small fly will do the trick, especially when tipped with a maggot or tiny piece of pork rind.

Most any day now if this warm weathers keeps up carp will become active, either spawning or feeding in the shallow bays, and become good targets for the bow and arrow.

The new campsite at Guilford is ready to accommodate either tent or trailer campers and is being used by campers more and more as the season gets along.

Free picnic tables and outdoor grills are being used by the general public, and the big rush will be on about Memorial Day and through the entire summer.

MANY PEOPLE who went to the trouble of planting numerous pine trees on their property only to have a brush fire break out and kill off the needles should not be too discouraged. Pine trees will take a lot of killing before they die.

Take a look at the terminal buds and if they are still green the tree has not been killed. This time next year the trees will be green and growing just the same as if there was no fire. In fact, some forestry departments in Southern states deliberately burn sections of pine plantations to get rid of various pine pests in order to have healthier young trees.

Ted Enders of the Georgetown Rd., near Salem, thought he lost 3,500 trees to a brush fire, but I showed him the trees were not hurt. Now he has to dig up the young trees he planted to replace them and plant them somewhere else as originally planned.

Wellsville Opens League With 8-4 Win

Righthander Jack Call twirled a six-hitter as the Wellsville Merchants dropped Irondale, 8-4, in a Tri-County League opener Tuesday night at Irondale.

Going the distance in his first start, Call struck out 12 and walked only two in winning behind a blazing fast ball.

Featuring Irondale's attack was heavy-hitting veteran Joe Urich, who powered two home runs, a double and a single in four trips to the plate. Grafton and J. Grimm singled for the Irons.

Call also starred at the plate for Wellsville, stroking a single plus a seventh-inning home run. Dick Malone, rightfielder, and third sacker Roger Ours also had two hits each.

Bob Mills was the losing pitcher. Mills started and gave way to Young in the fourth inning. They were tagged for 11 hits.

Westminster Team To Tour S. America During Summer

NEW WILMINGTON — Schedules have been set up for Westminster College's basketball team, which will tour South America this summer with Grambling College under the auspices of the Department of State and the Amateur Athletic Union, Dr. Harold E. Burry, director of athletics, has announced.

The combined U.S. squad, composed of seven players and a coach from each college, is scheduled to arrive in South America June 24, after a day's orientation either in New York or New Wilmington by William H. Morris, chief of the performing artists' branch, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs.

Because of the demand, the squad will be split at times in order to fulfill as many requests as possible.

Westminster's schedule follows: Bogota, Colombia, June 24-30; Lima, Peru, July 1-5; Antofagasta, Chile, July 6-7; Santiago, Chile, July 8-16; Other cities in Chile, July 11-13; Buenos Aires, Argentina, July 14-17; Montevideo, Uruguay, July 18-22; Rio de Janeiro and other cities, Brazil, July 23-Aug. 4.

Grambling's schedule is similar but the Tigers will be in Managua, Nicaragua, June 24-30, and Asuncion, Paraguay, July 16-21.

Grambling's delegation will come to New Wilmington approximately 10 days before embarkation date to work out with the Titans and make preparations for the clinics the group will be conducting.

Workout sessions on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, June 18-20, at 8 p. m. will be open to the public for a slight admission charge.

3 Ex-Champs To Play In Hot Springs Open

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Three former champions return to this resort city for the $20,000 Hot Springs Invitational Open Golf Tournament which begins Thursday.

Doug Sanders, the Georgia boy who plays out of Ojai, Calif., will defend his 1961 championship against 86 professional golf association players and a handful of amateurs.

Julius Boros, who won in 1958, and Bill Collins, the 1960 winner, will attempt to beat Sanders to the first two-time victory in the tournament's seven-year history.

The field will tee up for the first of 72 holes Thursday morning on the 6,923-yard course.

Teachers Explain School Program At Midland

Nearly 50 attended a school program, featuring exhibits and discussions of the various courses and services in Midland Schools Monday.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell was moderator for the afternoon session in the Music Forum of Lincoln High School, attended by representatives of various civic clubs, organizations, industry, clergy and press. The group was welcomed by James Morrison, president of the Board of Education and John Shovlin, the board's educational chairman.

Areas discussed by teachers or supervisors included English, science, elementary music, elementary remedial reading, guidance counseling and audio-visual aids.

She said the course is designed principally to aid students in using English effectively. In 10th grade, it is hoped students will learn "all the grammar they need," she said. In the same year, they are taught formal writing. The 11th grade course covers creative writing and study of American writing and literature. In the 12th grade, grammar is reviewed for prospective college students. There is other special training and tests and students read critically, looking for writers' movies, she said.

The science program was explained by George Mastrovich. He said that prior to 1960-61, there was no seventh or eighth grade science. He said now both grades take a half-year of general science and a half-year of geography. The ninth has one half year of general science and 10th has biology, one for general students and the other for college preparatory.

He said this year there is chemistry only for seniors and juniors since next year the program will be changed to relate the science and math program in the 11th and 12th. There will be chemistry in the 11th and physics in the 12th. He said a junior course of earth-space science will be offered as an elective next year instead of general science.

Mastrovich said that next year, there will be a full year of science in the seventh and eighth grades. Instead of offering general and preparatory science, beginning in the 10th, they will be started in the ninth grade during 1963-1964. In the 9th there will be general science and biology. In the 10th during 1964-1965, there will be biology for the general students and advanced biology for the other. Then in the 11th, chemistry and the 12th, physics.

Raymond Stowitzky, guidance counselor, explained his field. He said guidance is not a cure-all, that there will always be problems and students must work them out themselves.

He said guidance helps the individual know himself, his community and schools and helps him adjust to the situation. Guidance is a co-operative function involving the faculty, student body, school board, administration and community.

C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh discussed the elementary music program. He said in the kindergarten and first grade, pupils are taught to use their voice and by the third grade, teachers try to have them carrying a tune.

The elementary reading program was explained by Miss Mary Conlon, who said the program aims to give all children the chance to read to the best of their ability, to gain confidence, to develop pride in their work and to enjoy reading.

She said the remedial is a guidance program to help teachers meet the student needs and to enlist the aid of parents.

Howard Thorne discussed the audio-visual service of the high school which has been developed in the last 13 years. He said equipment includes the tachistoscope, tape recorders, record players, film strip previewers, a 16-millimeter projector, and overhead and opaque projectors. He said the aids create interest by students and is an effective means of teaching.

William I. McInerney of the Carnegie Library Trustee Board invited the group to use the library, which has over 15,000 books and over 3,000 are circulated a month. It has five sets of encyclopedia.

Band Booster Group Elects New Officers

Mrs. Harry Brothers of Salineville was elected president of the Southern Local Band Boosters at a meeting Tuesday night at Salineville High School. She succeeds Mrs. Verla Detchon.

Others elected were Martin Adams of Salineville, vice president; Mrs. George Pisarsky of near Highlandtown, secretary, and Mrs. Hollis Young of near Salineville, treasurer. Officers will begin duties in September.

A representative of the J. C. Penney Co. of Canton will meet tonight at the high school with a committee to consider approval of raincoats to be purchased for the senior band, Charles Temple, band director, announced.

Final plans were made to serve the annual banquet of the Salineville Alumni Association May 29 at the high school. Discussion was held on the possibility of sponsoring a strawberry festival and operating a concession at the Highlandtown firemen's fair.

Mrs. Kenneth Thomas was honored for eight years service with the boosters. Next meeting will be in September. About 20 attended.

Bibbiting With Sally

It should be explained right away that Harold Macmillan is the Prime Minister of England and that Sally Ann Howes is the loveliest gift the British have sent our way since the importation of Scotch whisky.

Alan Gill

The Prime Minister was introduced to Miss Howes the other evening in Washington and said, "When are you coming back to us?" "W-well, sir," the young lady stammered, "I've married an American, you see, and I, I, well, I. . ."

-:-

WELL, THE FACT IS, Mr. Prime Minister, we just won't let this little slip of a thing out of our sight. She is married to Richard Adler, the young man who composed the music to "Damn Yankees," "Pajama Game" and all those cigarette commercials you wish you could stop whistling, and he won't let her out of his sight either.

I met Miss Howes the other night just before she slipped off to the opening of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," and we got to chatting about "My Fair Lady" (in which Miss Howes, following softly upon the pitapat footsteps of Julie Andrews, scored an impossible triumph), about English and American TV, about the perils of acting, and the art of bibbiting.

THE LADY was dressed up to her lovely white teeth in a rose-colored gown, had her lovely white face encased in a hive of golden hair, had her lovely white feet in—well, let's try to forget it.

Bibbit is the name of a very small pooch which yapped at me from the lady's lap.

"Bibbiting is a word," she said, "which Dick and I used in answer to the question, 'What are you doing?' It means you're just puttering about, with nothing much to do, and loving it. And that's what Bibbit does all day."

Miss Howes has been bibbiting around television these days, guest-starring on "Password" and "To Tell the Truth"; I'm sure you've seen her with Dinah Shore, Perry Como, and the like.

"My Favorite American television program, though is gone. Jack Paar. And hasn't it been dreadful since he left? He had a way of bringing out the slightly evil side of people, which is so nice. I was on six times with him and was saying things I wouldn't say—oh, at Schrafft's."

I asked her what we could expect from British television once we get the TV satellite up there in the skies.

"'Sunday Night at the Palladium' is something that would go over here. But I wouldn't recommend a program called 'The Black and White Minstrel Show,' which is an old-fashioned blackface thing, with tambourines and English accents. Awful!"

Sally Ann Howes will play the lead in a New York revival of "Brigadoon" at the end of this month, and this somehow got us to knocking on wood about the disasters that can befall a singing star.

"I REMEMBER one English musical—my very first starring part. When it came time for my main song, there was no cue at all, and I thought, 'What the heck, I'll do it anyway,' and so I started off.

"The musicians went into a frenzy of turning pages in their scores and then, when they found the thing, they started in with the chorus, which I'd just finished. Going our separate ways, we made a simple terrible racket.

"I found out later that they'd pulled the song out of Act 1 and thrown it into Act 2. When the real song cue finally came around, I was given my note on a tiny cymbal which, unfortunately, was in much too high a key.

"Well, I sang the whole thing up there in a register I never dreamed I could reach. Only dogs could hear me."

WHAT PARTS would she like to do on television, she was asked Miss Howes gnawed her lip.

"The parts that really appeal to me," she said finally, "are men's parts. King Lear!"

She crossed her eyes, puffed out her cheecks, and growled.

"I suppose that would sound horrible in print, and I've always had a yen for the part Alfred Drake played in Kismet.' And do you know my favorite song from 'My Fair Lady'? 'I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face.'"

Commissioners Pick Representative In CD

LISBON — Al Rutecki, 402½ Washington St., was designated Monday as official representative of county commissioners in dealings with the federal government for a survey of potential Civil Defense fall - out shelters in the county. Rutecki is county CD director.

In other business, the commissioners inspected two alleys in Millport and Liverpool Township which petitioners have sought to have vacated. A public hearing on the requests for vacating was set June 4 in the commissioners' office.

The commissioners recessed until Tuesday, when they met to discuss "several other matters," according to Rex Reich, clerk.

Diet Keeps Nutrition Up, Calories Down

A compact car gets more miles to the gallon. The "little woman" gets more miles to the calories, so to speak, especially if she has a happy disposition and a calm outlook on life. A reader, aware of this, asks your dietitian to give weight control suggestions for the small person who needs fewer calories.

Ida Jean Kain

"I am 5 feet, have a small frame, and my best weight is 100 pounds. Please write a column for petite gals whose problem is to keep nutrition up and calories down."

Delighted! All short gals come aboard. The young woman who wrote this letter wastes no energy resenting that she has been "framed." She is eager to use nutrition knowledge to enjoy positive health and to control weight despite height limitations.

FORTUNATELY, the foods which furnish essential nutrients are not the weight makers. Here is the list: check to see that you get them daily:

Skim milk or buttermilk, 1 pint; green vegetable, 1 serving, other vegetable, 1 serving; salad, 1 serving; oranges, grapefruit or juice; lean meat, fish or fowl, 4 to 6 oz. cooked weight; an egg or a half cup of cottage cheese; margarines made principally from unhydrogenated corn oil, 2 pats; salad dressing or oil, 1 tablespoon.

This list adds up to less than 1,000 calories, yet furnishes about 70 grams of protein, and adequate iron, calcium and vitamins.

By adding 2 thin slices of bread, or a serving of cereal, or a potato, the calories will be close to 1,000. If meat serving is small, cottage cheese should be included in menu.

Now the dietary tricks to make meals appealing, satisfying and low in calories! For 100 calories a cup, skim milk can be made into delicious soups, and hot soup is comforting. Use the second cup of skim milk in cocoa, or desserts, sweetened with non-nutritive sweetener.

Protein sticks to the ribs, so build each of the three meals around a complete protein. A baked potato, half serving, served with the meat course, adds to the satiety value of the meal.

To add flavor to cottage cheese, mix in green pepper, slivered carrot or chili sauce. To devil an egg, use mustard and chopped celery, and seasoning.

—:—

Variety is the spice and the life of weight control menus.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Chose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Youth Center Names Queen

Results of the recent Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center queen and court election and plans for the visit of a television personality Saturday night and a trip to a Pittsburgh TV station have been announced by Mrs. William Spisak, director.

Miss Ella Mae Wolfe, Midland Junior Lincoln High School junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wolfe, 1084 Midland Ave., was named the 1962 queen during an election at Saturday's session.

Miss Wolfe is a cheerleader at the high school and was recently elected secretary of the Student Council. She is also a member of the Midland Rainbow Girls Assembly 83.

Others elected were Dee Lynne Engle, as maid of honor, and Judy Mulach, crown bearer, both juniors; Danna Graham, narrator, the only senior, and Patty Ryan, Helen Petrosky and Patty Yetso, sophomores, as the three attendants. Miss Faye (Polly) Miller is the retiring queen.

Due to the Junior - Senior Prom Friday evening, the center will be closed but will open Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. for a special program. Del Taylor, host of "Bandstand" on television station WTAE, Channel 4, Pitstburgh, will attend and bring special entertainment and give away records, Mrs. Spisak said.

She aaid 80 couples from the center will visit the Channel 4 Bandstand Saturday, May 26.

The center's next event will be the coronation ceremonies Wednesday, May 30, at its "Spring Fling." Stan Scott of television station, Channel 9, Steubenville, will attend with special entertainment.

He is host of "Nine Teen Time." Movies will be taken to be shown later on Channel 9 when the center members make an annual visit there later.

Solution Sought For Jobless Dropouts

Recently I wrote in this column of the vast number of teen-agers unemployed in our nation. According to the Detroit Free Press of March 4th, there are in Detroit alone 30,000 jobless young people between 18 and 23. Of the 12,000 graduates from Detroit high schools in 1961, half are now jobless. In that city, 10,000 youths entered the job market last year. This number will double by 1968. Each year in Detroit skilled jobs decrease by about 2,000. Forty-five per cent of Detroit's high school students drop out before graduation. They have but little chance of finding jobs. They are the last to be hired, the first to be fired.

Dr. Garry Meyers

BUT THE DROPOUTS in Detroit are not all weak students. Of the students who drop out, 63 per cent are in the normal curve and 7 per cent above average.

So says the chairman of a special committee pursuing these problems for Detroit's Board of Education.

The committee found that those youths "who were trained thoroughly in specialized or vocational programs...at schools like Wilbur Co-operative, Cass and Chadsey . . . were quickly hired".

A good many of Wright's graduates go on to college or technical institutions and get good summer jobs while working through college.

A World - of - Work program prepared by the committee has been set in operation by Detroit's Board of Education.

Accordingly, the high schools will be revamped. All, except nine, will become "comprehensive" high schools . . . "with a curriculum broad enough to provide for slow learners, the socially handicapped, the students with average abilities, the students with special abilities, the early job seekers and those who seek higher education". Gifted children are to have increasingly enriched programs.

Every student in the comprehensive schools will spend at least a quarter of his time in the manipulative skills.

NINE SPECIAL district high schools of Detroit will offer advance technical training plus trade programs.

In the whole public school program of Detroit the aim is to improve reading in the elementary schools as a key to success in high school — an objective the nation over.

Only one - sixth of Detroit's youngsters go to college. Only half of them want to go to college or have the ability to do so. A problem is to train the other half to move directly into jobs. Yet a high school diploma has not been a passport to a job, a fact which applies generally all over the nation.

On the surface, this projected program seems to be in the right direction. Years hence we may know how well it worked. From the report, some may wonder whether intellectual excellence will be adequately emphasized and gifted children be sufficiently stimulated.

My bulletin "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Rail Group Seen As Only Foe To Erie Waterway

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proponent of the proposed Lake Erie Waterway says the Upper Ohio Valley Association, a "very small, compact railroad group," is the only interest opposing the link between the Great Lakes and the Ohio-Mississippi river system.

Kenneth M. Lloyd of Youngstown, executive secretary of Inter-Connecting Waterway, Inc., one of the organizations backing the waterway, appeared before a Senate appropriations public works subcommittee Tuesday.

He said benefits of the proposed canal would spread through the nation by lowering transportation costs.

Lloyd testified in support of a $220,000 item in President Kennedy's budget to complete a $500,000 re-study of the proposed 110-mile waterway, previously surveyed in 1947.

The Upper Ohio Valley Association contends the project would cost $1 billion and benefit chiefly Youngstown steel interests.

Iris Applegate Elected By City Women's Group

Re-elected were Mrs. Freda Skvarka, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Winters, secretary, and Mrs. Lillian Smith, treasurer. Mrs. Helen Quigley and Mrs. Ann Winters were named trustees.

The slate of officers was presented by the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Irene Dopler.

Mrs. Verna Stone, retiring president who declined re-election, thanked officers and members for their co-operation.

Plans were discussed for a public card party June 13 at Lisbon Democratic headquarters. Tickets may be obtained from members.

The club also will send cards to State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, a patient at the Ohio Valley General Hospital in Wheeling, and Mrs. Vi Varsho, a patient in City Hospital.

Lunch was served 30 by Mrs. Gloria Young and Mrs. Evelyn Kind.

Next meeting is June 11 at the IBOP Hall with Mrs. Quigley and Mrs. Kathryn Crubaugh as the social committee.

Election Board To Name 990 For Staffs In 165 Precincts

A prelude to the appointment of 990 judges and clerks to staff its 165 precincts, the County Election Board is preparing to seek recommendations from members of the county central committees of the Republican and Democratic parties, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said today.

Six officials — four judges and two clerks — will be named for each polling place. Law requires the board to make the appointments on or before Sept. 15 for one-year terms. The judges and clerks will staff the polling places at the November general election and the May 1963 primaries.

Although there is no law requiring the action, the county board operates under an "unwritten rule" in which it seeks the recommendations of the central committeemen before making the appointments, O'Hanlon explained.

A letter will go to the committeemen, setting June 15 as the deadline for the recommendations. Three Republicans and three Democrats will be named for each polling place.

Law provides that the presiding judge in each precinct will be of the same political party as the candidate for governor who carried that precinct in the last preceding election for state office. For instance, if the Republican gubernatorial candidate carried a particular precinct in 1958, the presiding judge for the upcoming term will be from GOP ranks.

Cleaning up other details from the primaries May 8, the Election Board is preparing to send a letter to presiding judges in various precincts where the staffs failed to comply with the board's instructions on election night, O'Hanlon said.

"Failure to heed instructions was responsible for some errors and unnecessary delay in the returns," O'Hanlon said. "The officials will be warned that if it occurs again they will not be paid for their services."

He said letters will be sent to the staffs in every precinct where returns were "irregular or incorrect."

However, O'Hanlon added that failure to heed instructions was noted only in isolated instances and "on the whole, the job was well done by the precinct workers."

The board has issued vouchers to cover all expenses billed to it to date for the election, including the payrolls for precinct workers and messengers and statements from whom it rents space for polling places, O'Hanlon said.

DiSalle Presses Rhodes On Truck Axle-Mile Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has asked his Republican gubernatorial opponent, State Auditor James Rhodes, if he is in favor of the repeal of the truck axle-mile tax.

The governor said, if Rhodes failed to answer this and other questions he has posed, he would answer them himself.

Rhodes so far has been unresponsive. But he has said he would make his position on issues clear during the campaign.

"If you are in favor of its repeal," DiSalle asked Rhodes through newsmen, "what would you recommend as a substitute to protect revenues necessary for bond retirement and expanded highway construction."

The tax on big trucks using Ohio highways produces about $15 million a year. The money is pledged to retirement of highway construction bonds.

Auditor Replies To Sample After Remark On Post

Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate replied today to a remark about employes in his office made Friday night by Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. during an "economy" committee discussion on possible elimination of city jobs.

Sample asserted that "the auditor has an assistant he never had before — his daughter-in-law."

Applegate declared that Sample's statement would lead the public to believe he had created another position in the auditor's office, but that is not the case. He declared that Sample was a member of Council in 1956 when authority was voted to create the second clerical post in the auditor's office.

"There were two clerks in the office when I assumed the duties of auditor in 1960 and there are just two now," Applegate said. "Mr. Sample has been in and out of Council often enough to know that I could not hire an additional clerk without the sanction of Council."

"I suggest that Mr. Sample visit the various municipal offices and count noses; if he did this he would not make such ambiguous statements in public."

IOOF Lodge Conducts Rituals For Member

Charles B. Kidd was degree captain.

The lodge will sponsor a bowling team this fall. Members not present last night are to announce their decisions of joining the team at the next meeting May 28.

Joseph E. Kiddey, noble grand, presided.

Lausche Offers Bill For Study Of Strip Mining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, offered today a bill calling for a study of strip mining operations which he said have "left abominable, grotesque scars" on the land in many states.

"In many areas, the land has been robbed of its resources and abandoned to the wrath of the elements," Lausche said.

"There are large areas in Ohio and other states where, as a result of stripping operations, public highways have suffered severe damage by reason of slippage; streams, lakes and wells have been polluted; wildlife cover has been destroyed, and, finally, the entire areas themselves have been abandoned as unproductive and virtual wasteland."

Lausche said the study would enable Congress and the states to determine how "to restore to usefulness these ever-growing numbers of acres of desolation."

Lausche said when he was governor of Ohio almost insurmountable opposition prevented him from writing stricter conservation measures into state law, although a measure was finally pushed through to require strip mine operators to level spoiled banks and plant grass and trees.

He said his bill would provide for cooperation between the states and the Interior Department in studying remedies for spoiled land.

Nomination Held For Legion Post

The candidates include James Cregar, incumbent, and Robert Poynter for commander.

Candidates to be delegates to the district convention June 9-10 in Massillon and the state convention in Columbus July 20-22 include Cregar, James Wallover, Louis Provost, Ray Cusick, Robert Milne, Poynter, Cliff Frederick, Louis Krawiec, John Long and Vincent Ferlaino.

The election will be held May 28.

Cregar presided at the meeting at which 30 were present.

Provost gave a report on the County Council meeting Friday night in Columbiana and it was announced the Mayor's Joint Memorial Day Committee will meet Friday at 7:30 at City Hall.

A member of the State Highway Patrol will speak at the meeting Monday night.

Diet Keeps Nutrition Up, Calories Down

A compact car gets more miles to the gallon. The "little woman" gets more miles to the calories, so to speak, especially if she has a happy disposition and a calm outlook on life. A reader, aware of this, asks your dietitian to give weight control suggestions for the small person who needs fewer calories.

Ida Jean Kain

"I am 5 feet, have a small frame, and my best weight is 100 pounds. Please write a column for petite gals whose problem is to keep nutrition up and calories down."

Delighted! All short gals come aboard. The young woman who wrote this letter wastes no energy resenting that she has been "framed." She is eager to use nutrition knowledge to enjoy positive health and to control weight despite height limitations.

FORTUNATELY, the foods which furnish essential nutrients are not the weight makers. Here is the list: check to see that you get them daily:

Skim milk or buttermilk, 1 pint; green vegetable, 1 serving, other vegetable, 1 serving; salad, 1 serving; oranges, grapefruit or juice; lean meat, fish or fowl, 4 to 6 oz. cooked weight; an egg or a half cup of cottage cheese; margarines made principally from unhydrogenated corn oil, 2 pats; salad dressing or oil, 1 tablespoon.

This list adds up to less than 1,000 calories, yet furnishes about 70 grams of protein, and adequate iron, calcium and vitamins.

By adding 2 thin slices of bread, or a serving of cereal, or a potato, the calories will be close to 1,000. If meat serving is small, cottage cheese should be included in menu.

Now the dietary tricks to make meals appealing, satisfying and low in calories! For 100 calories a cup, skim milk can be made into delicious soups, and hot soup is comforting. Use the second cup of skim milk in cocoa, or desserts, sweetened with non-nutritive sweetener.

Protein sticks to the ribs, so build each of the three meals around a complete protein. A baked potato, half serving, served with the meat course, adds to the satiety value of the meal.

To add flavor to cottage cheese, mix in green pepper, slivered carrot or chili sauce. To devil an egg, use mustard and chopped celery, and seasoning.

Variety is the spice and the life of weight control menus.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Chose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Solution Sought For Jobless Dropouts

Recently I wrote in this column of the vast number of teen-agers unemployed in our nation. According to the Detroit Free Press of March 4th, there are in Detroit alone 30,000 jobless young people between 18 and 23. Of the 12,000 graduates from Detroit high schools in 1961, half are now jobless. In that city, 10,000 youths entered the job market last year. This number will double by 1968. Each year in Detroit skilled jobs decrease by about 2,000. Forty-five per cent of Detroit's high school students drop out before graduation. They have but little chance of finding jobs. They are the last to be hired, the first to be fired.

BUT THE DROPOUTS in Detroit are not all weak students. Of the students who drop out, 63 per cent are in the normal curve and 7 per cent above average.

So says the chairman of a special committee pursuing these problems for Detroit's Board of Education.

The committee found that those youths "who were trained thoroughly in specialized or vocational programs...at schools like Wilbur Co-operative, Cass and Chadsey . . . were quickly hired".

A good many of Wright's graduates go on to college or technical institutions and get good summer jobs while working through college.

A World - of - Work program prepared by the committee has been set in operation by Detroit's Board of Education.

Accordingly, the high schools will be revamped. All, except nine, will become "comprehensive" high schools . . . "with a curriculum broad enough to provide for slow learners, the socially handicapped, the students with average abilities, the students with special abilities, the early job seekers and those who seek higher education". Gifted children are to have increasingly enriched programs.

Every student in the comprehensive schools will spend at least a quarter of his time in the manipulative skills.

NINE SPECIAL district high schools of Detroit will offer advance technical training plus trade programs.

In the whole public school program of Detroit the aim is to improve reading in the elementary schools as a key to success in high school — an objective the nation over.

Only one - sixth of Detroit's youngsters go to college. Only half of them want to go to college or have the ability to do so. A problem is to train the other half to move directly into jobs. Yet a high school diploma has not been a passport to a job, a fact which applies generally all over the nation.

On the surface, this projected program seems to be in the right direction. Years hence we may know how well it worked. From the report, some may wonder whether intellectual excellence will be adequately emphasized and gifted children be sufficiently stimulated.

My bulletin "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Rail Group Seen As Only Foe To Erie Waterway

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proponent of the proposed Lake Erie Waterway says the Upper Ohio Valley Association, a "very small, compact railroad group," is the only interest opposing the link between the Great Lakes and the Ohio-Mississippi river system.

Kenneth M. Lloyd of Youngstown, executive secretary of Inter-Connecting Waterway, Inc., one of the organizations backing the waterway, appeared before a Senate appropriations public works subcommittee Tuesday.

He said benefits of the proposed canal would spread through the nation by lowering transportation costs.

Lloyd testified in support of a $220,000 item in President Kennedy's budget to complete a $500,000 re-study of the proposed 110-mile waterway, previously surveyed in 1947.

The Upper Ohio Valley Association contends the project would cost $1 billion and benefit chiefly Youngstown steel interests.

Lausche Offers Bill For Study Of Strip Mining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, offered today a bill calling for a study of strip mining operations which he said have "left abominable, grotesque scars" on the land in many states.

"In many areas, the land has been robbed of its resources and abandoned to the wrath of the elements," Lausche said.

"There are large areas in Ohio and other states where, as a result of stripping operations, public highways have suffered severe damage by reason of slippage; streams, lakes and wells have been polluted; wildlife cover has been destroyed, and, finally, the entire areas themselves have been abandoned as unproductive and virtual wasteland."

Lausche said the study would enable Congress and the states to determine how "to restore to usefulness these ever-growing numbers of acres of desolation."

Lausche said when he was governor of Ohio almost insurmountable opposition prevented him from writing stricter conservation measures into state law, although a measure was finally pushed through to require strip mine operators to level spoiled banks and plant grass and trees.

He said his bill would provide for cooperation between the states and the Interior Department in studying remedies for spoiled land.

Election Board To Name 990 For Staffs In 165 Precincts

A prelude to the appointment of 990 judges and clerks to staff its 165 precincts, the County Election Board is preparing to seek recommendations from members of the county central committees of the Republican and Democratic parties, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said today.

Six officials — four judges and two clerks — will be named for each polling place. Law requires the board to make the appointments on or before Sept. 15 for one-year terms. The judges and clerks will staff the polling places at the November general election and the May 1963 primaries.

Although there is no law requiring the action, the county board operates under an "unwritten rule" in which it seeks the recommendations of the central committeemen before making the appointments, O'Hanlon explained.

A letter will go to the committeemen, setting June 15 as the deadline for the recommendations. Three Republicans and three Democrats will be named for each polling place.

Law provides that the presiding judge in each precinct will be of the same political party as the candidate for governor who carried that precinct in the last preceding election for state office. For instance, if the Republican gubernatorial candidate carried a particular precinct in 1958, the presiding judge for the upcoming term will be from GOP ranks.

Cleaning up other details from the primaries May 8, the Election Board is preparing to send a letter to presiding judges in various precincts where the staffs failed to comply with the board's instructions on election night, O'Hanlon said.

"Failure to heed instructions was responsible for some errors and unnecessary delay in the returns," O'Hanlon said. "The officials will be warned that if it occurs again they will not be paid for their services."

He said letters will be sent to the staffs in every precinct where returns were "irregular or incorrect."

However, O'Hanlon added that failure to heed instructions was noted only in isolated instances and "on the whole, the job was well done by the precinct workers."

The board has issued vouchers to cover all expenses billed to it to date for the election, including the payrolls for precinct workers and messengers and statements from whom it rents space for polling places, O'Hanlon said.

DiSalle Presses Rhodes On Truck Axle-Mile Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has asked his Republican gubernatorial opponent, State Auditor James Rhodes, if he is in favor of the repeal of the truck axle-mile tax.

The governor said, if Rhodes failed to answer this and other questions he has posed, he would answer them himself.

Rhodes so far has been unresponsive. But he has said he would make his position on issues clear during the campaign.

"If you are in favor of its repeal," DiSalle asked Rhodes through newsmen, "what would you recommend as a substitute to protect revenues necessary for bond retirement and expanded highway construction."

The tax on big trucks using Ohio highways produces about $15 million a year. The money is pledged to retirement of highway construction bonds.

Lincoln PTA Seats Officers

Charles Haugh was installing officer. Thomas Doland, retiring president, presided. Mrs. Ralph Compa conducted devotions.

The instrumental and vocal groups of the school, comprised of fifth and sixth graders, presented the program. The instrumental group, directed by George Schweitzer, played six selections and the vocal group, directed by Miss Eleanor Whitehill, sang seven.

It was reported the patrol boys were taken to Cleveland to see a baseball game.

The sixth grade party will be held Thursday evening at the school.

This was the final meeting of the term. They will resume in October.

2 Fire Departments To Continue Training

The Leetonia and Washingtonville fire departments have completed about half their training provided under a state program, according to Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville, instructor.

Lewis said an old house at Leetonia will be burned within the next week or two as part of the training.

Lewis will instruct a state fire school at Duncan Falls this Sunday and May 27. It is being sponsored by the Southeastern Ohio Firemen's Association.

URA Grant Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The city of Athens, Ohio, has received Urban Renewal Administration approval of a $28,380 grant to be used for a 24-month study of the city's growth potential, including water supply, access highways and land subdivision regulations. The city puts up $9,460 as its share.

Auditor Replies To Sample After Remark On Post

Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate replied today to a remark about employes in his office made Friday night by Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. during an "economy" committee discussion on possible elimination of city jobs.

Sample asserted that "the auditor has an assistant he never had before — his daughter-in-law."

Appiegate declared that Sample's statement would lead the public to believe he had created another position in the auditor's office, but that is not the case. He declared that Sample was a member of Council in 1956 when authority was voted to create the second clerical post in the auditor's office.

"There were two clerks in the office when I assumed the duties of auditor in 1960 and there are just two now," Applegate said. "Mr. Sample has been in and out of Council often enough to know that I could not hire an additional clerk without the sanction of Council."

"I suggest that Mr. Sample visit the various municipal offices and count noses; if he did this he would not make such ambiguous statements in public."

50 Attend Eagles Mother Program

About 50 attended the Mother's Day program of Eagles Aerie 457 Sunday afternoon at the lodge home.

Earl Tweed, president, principal speaker, told how the first public plea for the observance was made by the late Frank Hering, a member of the order who was then a professor at Notre Dame University. The first commemoration service was held in 1904 at a Memorial Day program presented by the Eagles. Congress set the national holiday in 1912.

The Rev. George Grafton of the Free Methodist Church of Wellsville gave invocation and benediction.

Milk Processor Cites Competitive Prices

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A Greenup County milk processor whose firm sells milk in parts of Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia has testified the firm makes only a small profit because it must meet the lower prices of competition.

The State Milk Marketing and Anti-Monopoly Commission called Paul Harris, vice president of W-B Modern Dairy Co. at Russell, to testify Tuesday at an investigation into the alleged great variance in the price of milk in the Ashland area.

Harris testified his plant sells more than half of its milk to its own stores, one in Ashland and two in Ironton, Ohio. He said his company had to lower prices to stay in business.

On April 1, the department had 149 children under its care. It added eight during the month, but six were dismissed as wards. On May 1, the department had 151 children on its rolls — 124 in foster homes, four with relatives, 17 with parents and six in institutions.

QUESTION: What is the difference between an atom and a molecule?

ANSWER: In our picture, Mr. Thomas, Joe's science teacher, is explaining this difference. An atom, Mr. Thomas says, is the smallest complete particle of matter. Everything is made up of these tiny specks; they are the building blocks of the universe. Atoms are of different kinds. When a chemical substance is made up of only one kind of atom, it is an "element," meaning a substance which can not be broken up any further. Gold and lead are elements. Mr. Thomas is showing what science knows about the structure of the atom. At its center, he says, is a little ball called the "nucleus." Specks called "electrons" are constantly whirling at a terrific speed around the nucleus. This particular atom is an atom of hydrogen which has only one electron (a). This sketch at upper left shows the electron as if suddenly stopped in its movement. But it is whirling around so fast (b) that it is making many paths almost at the same time. Actually (c) it whirls at such enormous speed that the paths make a kind of shell around the nucleus. Atoms of different kinds may attract each other and stick together; then they form "molecules." Mr. Thomas' right hand points to a molecule composed of two hydrogen atoms combined with another larger atom of oxygen. These particular molecules are what water is composed of, but it takes billions of them to give us a single drop.

FOR YOU TO DO: The chemical name or formula for water is H20. From what we have said above, can you figure out why the formula is written like this?

'Good Response' Reported In Calcutta Truck Canvass

A canvass of homes in Calcutta for a new truck fund continues with "good response" from homeowners in the area served by the fire department, it was announced at the department's meeting Monday night.

About half of the homes in the area have been visited by members of 11 fund drive teams, Norman Neal, co-chairman, estimated.

Firemen are attempting to raise $10,000 toward the purchase of a new $20,000 fire truck. The drive opened May 2. Homeowners are presented a copy of the department's financial report for 1961, names to be used in emergencies. cies.

The department listed receipts of $5,047.26 in 1961, with $335.70 coming from donations and $4,711.56 raised in social activities. There was $1,181.97 on deposit on Jan. 1.

Among the department's expenditures for 1961 were $1,437.96 for equipment, $714.03 for utilities, $500.50 for insurance, and $713.51 for real estate. Total expenditures were $5,174.51.

Firemen have on deposit for the new truck fund a total of $8,385.22. The department lists liabilities of $2,869.12, with $2,434.27 owned the Potters Savings & Loan Co. for a building mortgage and $434.85 owed Mrs. Ina Pugh for a lot.

Firemen approved three dates to attend parades in Chester, Negley and Wellsville. Thirteen departments have confirmed appearances in the Calcutta department's parade to be held Aug. 23 at 7:30 p. m. in connection with a carnival week.

Firemen were reminded that firemen's badges and caps will be ordered at the next meeting Monday night. Dennis McKenzie was named in charge of obtaining prices and receiving orders for the caps and badges.

Firemen went on record offering congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lester McElhaney on their 50th wedding anniversary recently. McElhaney has been a member of the department over eight years.

Rogers Firemen, Auxiliary Plan Strawberry Festival

ROGERS — Plans for the annual strawberry and ice cream festival of the volunteer firemen and auxiliary June 16 were outlined at a meeting of the two groups Monday night.

Glenn Rhodes, president, appointed Wilbert Huston to replace Homer Barnhouse, who has resigned as secretary because of a conflicting work schedule.

Firemen elected Dale Pitzer as assistant fire chief, succeeding Charles Butler, who resigned for reasons of health. He was injured last week at work at Columbiana.

The auxiliary discussed a public meeting to be held June 7 at which Mrs. Hobert Butcher of Salem, Red Cross aide, will speak. The site will be announced later. Mrs. Wayne Rudibaugh will be luncheon leader.

The auxiliary will be in charge of refreshments, bazaar and fish pond at the annual strawberry festival. A special meeting will be held next Monday night to appoint committees, Mrs. Veda Cope, president, said.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anna Long and Mrs. Bertha Harroff.
